Non-Fiction Division Of Library
Enlarged by Five Late Books

Before the second semester officially opened the library acquired the following five new fiction books:

The Life of George Washington, John Marshall. This is one of the most outstanding autobiographies of today. The Life of the Greatest American, Written by the Greatest American Jurist, and will not fail to attract the attention of Boston's United States of thousands of men and women, who will find it is a mine of national and historical information on the early administration of the Government. Henry St. George Tucker.

The World Court, Maxey O. Johnson. This is a handbook of the Permanent Court of International Justice. The author herself is a clear, lucid, logical account of the story of the World Court's work from 1921 to the beginning of 1931. The Unknown God, Alfred Noyes. This autobiography is a psychological approach to the Catholic Church. The author, a recent convert to Catholicism, is a prominent English essayist and poet. Chapters in Frontier History, Gilbert J. Garrard, B.J. Ph.D.

This book deals with two groups of pioneers of the French Colonial period and those of the Indian Missionaries in the early American West. It contains the ramblings and adventures that are intimately bound up with the story of French pioneering in Western America.

The social secretary, Miss Ruth Mary Hetherington, wishes to acknowledge her appreciation of the cooperation of the Students and teachers in making the first glances such a splendid success.

The recent operetta is scheduled for the time tomorrow after Easter and others will probably follow at regular intervals.

Side Glances At The Grads

Fonbonne received an invitation for the marriage of Miss Emily Stetson, A.B., 31, and Elmer Shelby. The wedding took place yesterday at the Church of the Holy Cross, Hoboken, N.J.

Miss Mary Wilfred Floding, A.B., 31, and Glen J. Hurting were married on February 21, in Alton, Illinois. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of St. Francis Xavier Church, the Reverend John J. Clancy, M.C., and Mrs. Hurting will continue to live in Alton.

On January 29, Mrs. Elia Watson, 41, became the bride of Dr. Leo W. Hurting of Washington, D.C. The marriage was celebrated at a solemn Mass at the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel with the Reverend Joseph W. Watson, uncle of Mrs. Hurting. The bride's attendants were her sister, Miss Margaret Watson, A.B., 31, William J. Parkinson attended Dr. Hurting, and Mrs. Hurting are now residing in Cambridgesburg, Ohio.

On January 31, a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Spearing at St. Mary's Hospital. Mrs. Spearing was former Miss Emma Morgan, a member of the Faculty class in '31. The child was named Romona for her mother.

Not too long ago, the Tattleh Collective was preparing for a meeting with a Puerto Rican activist. We knew the debate that this combination was called to set up was too strong enough to make even Irish jokes.

If all the hamburbers eaten by Fonbonnes were laid end to end it seems that three miles of bread would probably never be eaten.

What prompts Virginia Olmstead's suggestion of tonics for the boys? Hoping for the best.

Because you can't fool nature! Don't be so silly. Remember, a Tattleh always tells it as it is.

Can you beat that? Well, try!
