PAPERS READ FOR EDUCATION WEEK PROGRAM

Student Seminar To Be Held at Assembly November 18—Virginia Lucas To Preside

American and Catholic Education Week, extending from November 14 to 15, will be observed at Fontbonne, by a special student program to be presented at the monthly assembly Monday, November 18, Virginia Lucas, president of the Student Association, will preside.

The program will be planned in cooperation with the outline given by the National Catholic Welfare Conference. It is intended to familiarize the students with the opportunities which Catholic education offers for the development of the mental, social and religious interests of the individual.

The program covers a wide field, including in its scope the following topics: Catholic education; speech and debate; social justice, which is the topic of the year in the National Catholic Welfare Conference. The students are invited to participate in the discussion of these problems.

FRENCH CLUB HAS ELECTIONS TODAY

Le Cercle de Conversation Francais, the newly formed French club of Fontbonne, will have election of officers and membership rules for the organization on Tuesday, November 15. The club will hold meetings every Tuesday at 11:00 a.m. The officers of president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer will be elected.

The club has been formed in response to the request of French students for a club of their own. The officers of the club will be elected by a vote of the members present. The club will meet weekly on Tuesdays at 11:00 a.m.

Although this club is organized only now, it is expected to grow rapidly and to become an active and valuable part of the Fontbonne social life.

Upper Classman Laud
Freshman Class' Sportmanship

The array of strange apparel and equipment, and manifestation of strange behavior which were evident in corridor and classroom during the period of probation for freshmen, did more than announce the upper classmen for a week. It proved the sportiveness of the new group which is entering Fontbonne. The freshman class, by their staunch adherence to regulations, their willingness to help, and their brave good humor in the presence of trying situation, proved themselves capable of accepting the responsibility which will be theirs to carry on the traditions and ideals of Fontbonne.

We feel confident that the splendid spirit shown in their initiation will be carried over into every other field of activity in school life. With such evidence of high standards of sports-manmanship and loyalty to the institution displayed by freshmen students we may, with the cooperation of the upperclassmen, look forward to a most successful and active year.

Members who are willing to obey orders meted out to them by their superiors are an asset to any organization.

Freshmen, we advise you!

Radio Guild Presents
Shakespearean "King" Plays

The realization of the difficulty of making Shakespearean dramas accessible and acceptable to the general public has given rise to commendable plans. The adoption of Shakespeare's plays by Hollywood marked the first attempt to eradicate the idea that this literature is the exclusive property of students. The second attempt is being made in the form of radio broadcasts of Shakespeare's plays dealing with the King of England.

The programs will be broadcast in the Radio Guild period from 7:00 to 8:00 on Thursday afternoon, over KWS and the Blue network. The dramas, which will be enacted by a distinguished group of Shakespearean actors, will be broadcast chronologically, the period of the principal character determining the order of presentation. The cycle will bring the "King Dramas" to the air in the following order: King John, Richard II, Henry V, Henry VI, and Richard III.

The wonderful opportunities offered by these programs are being recognized by schools throughout the nation, which are completing plans to use them as required work by the pupils to supplement the regular courses in literature and history.

Societies Need Committees. Why Not Efficient Ones?
The purpose of appointing committees, according to Hoppe, is to improve the smoothness and efficiency of organization plans. He is, therefore, with great seriousness and exactness that we view so many instances of non-functioning committees. This state of affairs forces the hand of action, at the last minute, on the student presidents or the student chairman.

It is not fully appreciated nor is it generally understood that the success of any workable body is predicated on the conception and efficient handling of details. This function depends on committees, small units and not on the entire organization.

To assure membership on committees should mean something to the individual. It is a step to be accepted with sincere interest, knowledge of what is to be done, and with eagerness to get it done on time. Therefore, computed by size and members should be chosen with due deliberation and thought in the capability of the individual. For individuals, we might add, because it is true that committees should work more effectively if they are composed of a smaller Large committees should be abolished.

In the hope that for the present existence seems to be the necessity to include every member in the club or class. The latter should be determined by a decision. The keynote should be quality not quantity.

Instructor In Social Sciences Interviewed Alphonse H. Clemens Explains Function of Catholic Central Bureau Founded 27 Years Ago.

In a recent interview given to a reporter of The Font, Alphonse H. Clemens, president of the Catholic Central Bureau for the State of Louisiana, explained the purpose and work of the Bureau. Mr. Clemens, who is also a member of the Board of Directors of the national Catholic Social Action Committee, is a member of a group of laymen who have been active in various Catholic organizations for the past 27 years.

"The purpose of the Bureau," explained Mr. Clemens, "is to promote the welfare of the Catholic community by providing a central clearinghouse for information and guidance. We believe that the work of the Bureau is essential in order to meet the needs of the Catholic community in the state."

Founded in 1988.

The Bureau is conducted on a voluntary basis and is supported solely by contributions from its members. It provides a link between the Catholic community and the state government. The Bureau has been successful in bringing about changes in state laws and policies that are favorable to the Catholic community.

Dr. Sandrella’s History Class Visits Museum

The class in the Renaissance and Reformation will visit the Art Museum next Monday, November 18, at 10:30 a.m. During the tour of the Museum, particular attention will be directed to the works of the painters, sculptors, and arches of the Revival of Learning.

The Art Museum, located in Foster Park, is famous for its valuable Romanesque collection. An original glasstained door out of St. Amb of Bella Ruina is easily noticeable.

These are also glassed sides of the famous door to the Byzantine at the Monastery of Rubicon. The finished doors have twenty-eight scenes from the life of Christ, the scribes, and the four great painters of the Church. Nearby are Saint Clare Figgaro and 500 A.D. of Munich, and a statue of St. George by Danzilott, the great Florentine sculptor who sculpted his statue from the Gothic period and gave it naturalism.

Members of the class will include the following: Misses Mauzer, C. J. K. and E. J. St. John, E. P., and Misses Figgaro and C. J. Cliff Hurry, Mr. E. A. Figgaro, Mr. E. H. E. Figgaro, Mr. E. R. M. Figgaro, Grover Beach, Bay, Good, and Misses Rainey, A. A. McNeil, and Mrs. E. T. Mauzer.

F. A. A. Elects Officers For Coming Year

The Athletic Association of Foster Hall held its fast meeting of the year on Monday afternoon. Ann McNamara, president, selected Edward McCarthy, junior, secretary; Winfield Galley, sophomore, treasurer.

This year the Athletic Association is launching a special drive to make athletics a “very important feature” in the life of Foster Hall. The officers are planning various projects to further interest in football and basketball games, as well as track meets. They intend to give an Athletic Association party next Christmas.
