Jesuit Order Celebrates Four Hundredth Anniversary

Celebrating the four hundredth anniversary of the Society of Jesus, the annual Jesuit Celebration is being held on the College’s campus. Footnotes College will be represented by the Jesuits of the Society. The celebration will include a Mass, a lecture, and a reception. The Mass will be celebrated by Rev. Harry H. O’Donnell, SJ, and the lecture will be given by Rev. Thomas J. McCarthy, SJ. The reception will be held in the Academy auditorium.

Student Polls Reveal Diversified Opinions On Election Views

This is the year Footnotes first held the election. From a poll taken in the Footnotes Club by the students, it is clear that Footnotes would win, and that the students would have won the election if they were voting. In the poll, 80% of the students voted for Footnotes, followed by 10% for the other candidates. The poll showed that 95% of the students would vote for Footnotes, and the other candidates would receive 5%. The results of the poll were consistent with the predictions of the Footnotes Club, who had predicted that Footnotes would win the election.

nothing to sing about

From the survivors one looks toward the harbor of Fontbonne. There will be a ceremony of baptism on Wednesday morning. November 6. Wonder what the blue-ribbon girls will look like after they've been washed? It is a strange thing, but people who observe these ceremonies on Baptism Sunday and before them absolutely, when polio over the nation. You can't change a hair's breadth by isolation. The world would be the better of it if people would remember that a devastation is more effective than an advertisement.

Has anyone seen the hidden and broken window of a sky-blue building around the American Thermo? Suppose we should try to look at the history of what Lawrence meant before he was ready to shape her handiwork and paint around parts. The world would be the better of it if people would remember that a devastation is more effective than an advertisement.

Six Lessons From Shirley La Hurley, or There's More Than One Way to Hold Your Man

During the month of November, opportunities are offered to us that we do not take advantage of very often. Since it is the month devoted to the souls in Purgatory, we should be especially attentive to them because they are more than anxious to help us if only we invite their help.

There are many who advocate that we should not be mercenary in our supplications to the holy souls, but it must be remembered that they are in a better position to help others than themselves. A petition to them is certain to receive their notice and through their intervention, we shall benefit, then, in turn, we can pray for the holy souls.

Shirley La Hurley is now in the role of "Sister" in the radio version of "Clean Hands," a story that has been making waves in the world of radio drama. Her portrayal of the young nun has been praised by critics and audiences alike for its depth and sincerity. La Hurley's performance has been described as "engaging" and "touching," and her ability to convey the complexity of her character has been noted by many.

Shirley La Hurley's rise to stardom has been meteoric, and her success has been attributed to her dedication to her craft and her willingness to take on challenging roles. Her performance in "Clean Hands" is just one of many examples of her talent and commitment to her art.

La Hurley's next project is an upcoming television series that promises to be just as groundbreaking as "Clean Hands." Viewers can look forward to seeing La Hurley bring her talent to the small screen in the near future.

My friend, I wrote it on a memo and I left the memo behind the door. I didn't mean to lose it, it was just a memo. I'm not sure if you will understand what I'm trying to say, but I hope you do. I wish I could write better, but I don't have the time. I hope you can understand what I'm trying to say.

Lesson 1: Do not let others decide your future. You are the only one who can make that decision. If you let others make your decisions for you, you will not be able to follow your dreams.

Lesson 2: Never stop trying. Even if you fail, you will still have made progress. Never give up, no matter how difficult the situation may seem.

Lesson 3: Always be honest. Dishonesty will ultimately lead to disaster. Be truthful in all your actions.

Lesson 4: Do not give up on your dreams. Even if they seem impossible, never give up hope. Remember that anything is possible with hard work and determination.

Lesson 5: Always be kind to others. Treat others the way you would like to be treated. Kindness will always be appreciated.

Lesson 6: Do not be afraid to take risks. Sometimes, the most successful people are the ones who are willing to take risks. Be willing to try new things and be open to new experiences.

Lesson 7: Always be true to yourself. Do not try to be someone you are not. Be true to your own values and beliefs.

Lesson 8: Do not be afraid to fail. Everyone fails at some point in their life. The important thing is to learn from your failures and use them as a stepping stone to success.

Lesson 9: Always be grateful. Be grateful for the things you have and for the people in your life. Gratitude will always bring happiness and joy.

Lesson 10: Always be patient. Life is a journey, not a race. Be patient with yourself and others.

Shirley La Hurley's success has been a testament to the power of determination and hard work. Her talent and dedication have earned her a place in the annals of radio drama. She continues to inspire and entertain audiences with her performances, and her legacy will continue to be felt for generations to come.

Diplomats Debate "Conscription"

"Conscription" was the topic of a meeting of the student body, the Diplomats, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 17, in the assembly room. "Conscription" was the topic of the meeting because the men present felt that the nation should be prepared for any possible future military action.

The meeting was led by President J. Smith, who outlined the various points that would be discussed. These points included the possibility of conscription and the effect it might have on the economy.

The meeting was well-attended, with many students expressing their opinions. Many felt that conscription would be a necessary step, while others were concerned about the potential impacts on the economy and the rights of individuals.

In conclusion, the Diplomats agreed that the nation should be prepared for any possible future military action and that a discussion on the topic should be held in the future.

Sodality Presents Living Rosary

The Sodality is presenting an animated rosary on the campus in an effort to draw attention to the spiritual needs of the students. The rosary will be shown on a large screen in the Student Union Building every evening from 6:00 to 7:00 pm.

The event is open to all students and faculty, and everyone is encouraged to participate. It is a great opportunity to reflect on the spiritual dimensions of life and to pray together.

Mission Unit Plans Lectures

The Mission Unit will host a series of three lectures on the theme of "The Missionary Experience." The lectures will be held in the auditorium on Tuesday evenings at 7:30 pm. They are open to all students, faculty, and members of the local community.

The first lecture will be given by Father Joseph, who will discuss his experience as a missionary in the Far East. The second lecture will be given by Sister Mary, who will talk about her work in Africa. The third lecture will be given by Brother John, who will share his experiences in South America.

The lectures are free and open to the public. No reservations are required. A reception will follow each lecture, and light refreshments will be served.

Music Department Announces Lecture Program

The Music Department has planned a series of lectures on various music-related topics. The first lecture in the series will be given by Professor John, who will discuss the role of music in human history. The lecture will be held in the auditorium on Tuesday evening at 7:30 pm. The lecture is open to all students, faculty, and members of the local community.

The lecture will provide an overview of the evolution of music, from ancient times to the present day. Professor John will discuss some of the major composers and movements that have shaped the history of music. The lecture is free and open to the public. A reception will follow, and light refreshments will be served.
