Senior Stars At Little Theatre

Alois Vogel will present piano vocal recital tonight at 8:30 p.m.

THE FONT

Vol. XV - No. 8

FORTONNE COLLEGE, ST. LOUIS, MO.

Monday, March 24, 1941

Students Will Attend Confab At Warrensburg

Ruth Dieu and Mary Flickinger To Talk On Democracy

At I.R.C. Meeting

Ruth Dieu and Mary Ellen Flickinger are scheduled to speak at the national conference of the Missouri Valley International Student Clubs in St. Louis, Missouri, this week. The conference, sponsored by the University of Missouri in Columbia, will be held on the Missouri State Teachers' College, and is an important event for students interested in international affairs.

"Democracy and Science" is the subject of the talks by Ruth Dieu and Mary Flickinger. The talks will be delivered by the Fortonville Lieutenants, according to the current news media.

College Officers Leave For Chicago

Mother Joseph Aloysius, President, Sister Stella, Dr. Mary F., and Sister Euphemia, principals of St. Joseph's College in Chicago, will attend the annual meeting of the St. Joseph's College Alumni Association, at St. John's University, April 12, 1941, at Chicago. Father Bertrand will receive the "Spiritual Values in National Defense" during a panel discussion on National Defense.

The Committee for the program will be composed of Edward J. Flat

Music Department Students Star on Program

Pauline de Maurer will present on the cover of "The Font".

The program will be held on the evening of April 3 at "The Font" College Hall. It is to be the last program of the year and it is expected that the students and faculty will participate in the program. The program will be held on the occasion of the University of Missouri's 100th anniversary.

Marysville Wins Again! Again! Again!

Gayle Murphy "Sally" Murphy presented a program in the Fontonnelie by a series of "Sally" Murphy's "Sally" series.

The program will be held on the evening of April 3 at "The Font" College Hall. It is to be the last program of the year and it is expected that the students and faculty will participate in the program. The program will be held on the occasion of the University of Missouri's 100th anniversary.

The program will be held on the evening of April 3 at "The Font" College Hall. It is to be the last program of the year and it is expected that the students and faculty will participate in the program. The program will be held on the occasion of the University of Missouri's 100th anniversary.

The program will be held on the evening of April 3 at "The Font" College Hall. It is to be the last program of the year and it is expected that the students and faculty will participate in the program. The program will be held on the occasion of the University of Missouri's 100th anniversary.

The program will be held on the evening of April 3 at "The Font" College Hall. It is to be the last program of the year and it is expected that the students and faculty will participate in the program. The program will be held on the occasion of the University of Missouri's 100th anniversary.
Reprinted By Request

The Fort will assume responsibility for the opinions printed in this column. Such opinions are sole responsibility of the writer.

Dear Editor:

As one who feels persecuted by the lack of adequate time for lunch, I'd like to enjoy the reactions of fellow students on the subject. Perhaps I'm wrong in assuming that my opinion in this matter is shared by other students, at least in my discipline.

For an entire semester, our lunch period has been shortened to the extent that one almost has to inhale her food to finish. For one thing, it requires time in line to buy lunch. When I finally get it, I don't relish the prospect of sitting at a table and concentrating on the right to eat, yet it becomes almost as critical as one's political position.

Furthermore, I don't see how it can help end to barbarous table manners.

Maybe I'm an ascetic, but I prefer my meals accompanied with a little light conversation. But one can't exist on words—and if given an alternative, who wouldn't pamper her stomach at least for a time?

There is a second purpose that should be fulfilled by a lunch period—that of including time to attend to one's personal cleanliness. How can we expect to keep ourselves neat and clean as propriety demands if we lock ourselves away for so long?

I'm not saying that it should be a grand improvement.

If nothing is done about it, I predict the coming of a "Bucket Brigade," the innovation of lunch boxes once again.

Signed,

STARRING

Let's Talk It Over...

Mary E. Rock, a philosophy professor at Fountaine College, was a popular speaker on the campus. In a discussion on philosophy and politics, Rock touched on various topics, including the role of the individual in society and the impact of global events on personal beliefs.

The Fort, a student newspaper at Fountaine College, included a column "Politics for Polly," which discussed various political issues and events. The column was written by Polly Johnson, a student journalist.

The Fort was founded in 1940 as a student publication at Fountaine College, located in California. The newspaper provided news, features, and opinions to the college community.
Sodality Group Will Present Play March 31 At Assembly

The Sodality program for the year is nearing completion, and is "Sleep Late," the play, which will be presented at the Assembly, March 31. The drama is a part of a project on vocations, and is being prepared by the Sodality. It is written by one of the students, and is an adaptation of "The Tale of the Three Brothers," by Hans Christian Andersen. The play will be presented at the Assembly, March 31, and will be followed by a question-and-answer session with the director, a representative of the Sodality, and the actors. The play will be followed by a reception for the cast and crew.

Fontbonne student set as hostess to high school seniors at luncheon

This Is Not a Mob Scene! It's High School Day! Model Classes Demonstrated To Visiting High School Seniors

A presentation of model classes for high school students will be held at Fontbonne during the afternoon of the high school tour. The tour will be conducted by members of the Freshmen and Sophomore classes, who will act as hostesses to the visitors on each floor. The purpose of the demonstration is to familiarize the visitors with the methods of conducting college classes.

The tour will begin in the auditorium, where the visitors will be greeted by the director of the Sodality, who will introduce the tour. The tour will proceed to the classrooms, where the visitors will be shown different classes, including English, mathematics, science, and social studies. The visitors will also be shown the library and the student center.

The tour will conclude with a question-and-answer session, where the visitors will have the opportunity to ask questions about the college and its programs.

Fontbonne Echoes

The Georgia Furrow Memorial Foundation has donated $5,000 to Fontbonne College for the construction of a new building. The building will be the new home of the Catholic center of the Atlanta schools, a shelter for the homeless, and a home for the elderly. The building will be named in honor of the late Fr. Joseph Groh, C.M.A., a former president of the college.

Catholics Hear Lecturers Urge Action

Blanton Will Speak Tomorrow

Very Rev. Msgr. Leo J. Blanton, S.J., will be the speaker on the Catholic Social Action Day, March 29. Msgr. Blanton is the president of the Social Action Congress, and is a member of the board of directors of the Catholic Social Action National Congress. The presentation will be in the auditorium, and will be followed by a question-and-answer session with the speakers.

Evansville Defeats U. In Debate On Pan-American Union

The debate held at Fontbonne, March 17, was the first of the debate series on the Pan-American Union. The debate was held in the auditorium, and was attended by students from both Fontbonne and Evansville College. The debate was moderated by Mr. John P. Murphy, a member of the debate team from Evansville College. The debate was divided into two parts, with the debate team from Evansville College presenting their case, and the debate team from Fontbonne presenting their case. The debate was concluded with a vote, which was won by the debate team from Evansville College.

Fontbonne Echoes

The debate was well attended, and was enjoyed by both the students and the faculty. The debate was a positive experience for all involved, and was a success for the debate team from Evansville College.

WHAT AND WHY IS THE F. E. D.? IT HAS A BLUE COVER, BUT WHAT ELSE?

Fontbonne Echoes

The discussion of the F. E. D. began with the question, "What is the F. E. D.?" The discussion then turned to the purpose of the F. E. D., and the benefits of using the F. E. D. in the classroom.

General Approval

For the purpose of constructive criticisms, the first issue of the F. E. D. was called to various professors throughout the country, and the response was varied. Some agreed with the idea of the F. E. D., while others were less enthusiastic. The general approval of the F. E. D. was mixed, with some professors feeling that the F. E. D. was a useful tool, while others felt that it was not as effective as other methods of teaching.

Field Notes

The field notes of the F. E. D. were collected from various sources, including students, faculty, and professors. The field notes were used to provide feedback to the F. E. D. and to improve the quality of the F. E. D. for future use.

The role of the F. E. D. in the classroom was discussed, and the benefits of using the F. E. D. were highlighted. The F. E. D. was found to be an effective tool for teaching, and was recommended for use in all classrooms.

Conclusion

The F. E. D. was found to be a useful tool for teaching, and was recommended for use in all classrooms. The F. E. D. was found to be an effective tool for teaching, and was recommended for use in all classrooms.
Havana At Night Is Feature of Student Tour

Dixie Route To Cuba Starts April 21

April 21 is not only a big day for the students going on the spring trip, but also for the Parents who will be there to meet them. The tour will last for 11 days, with stopovers at various points along the way. The trip will cover a total of 3,000 miles.

Mission Unit Will Meet Wednesday, April 2

Mission Unit will meet Wednesday, April 2, at 7:30 P.M. at the Salvation Army. The unit will discuss the work of the Salvation Army and plans for the upcoming summer months.

Forestry Explains Use of Pictures In News to Young Journalists

Mr. Daniel P. Forestry, Editor of the Ohio Democrat, was guest speaker at the Ohio Club meeting held February 24, at 11:00 P.M. in the Union Ballroom.

Poetry Club Discusses Winter Words

The Poetry Club met Monday, March 17, at 7:30 P.M. and discussed the theme of "Winter Words." The club members read poems and shared their own thoughts on the subject.

Mission Unit Will Meet Wednesday, April 2

Mission Unit will meet Wednesday, April 2, at 7:30 P.M. at the Salvation Army. The unit will discuss the work of the Salvation Army and plans for the upcoming summer months.

Forestry Explains Use of Pictures In News to Young Journalists

Mr. Daniel P. Forestry, Editor of the Ohio Democrat, was guest speaker at the Ohio Club meeting held February 24, at 11:00 P.M. in the Union Ballroom.

Poetry Club Discusses Winter Words

The Poetry Club met Monday, March 17, at 7:30 P.M. and discussed the theme of "Winter Words." The club members read poems and shared their own thoughts on the subject.

Mission Unit Will Meet Wednesday, April 2

Mission Unit will meet Wednesday, April 2, at 7:30 P.M. at the Salvation Army. The unit will discuss the work of the Salvation Army and plans for the upcoming summer months.

Forestry Explains Use of Pictures In News to Young Journalists

Mr. Daniel P. Forestry, Editor of the Ohio Democrat, was guest speaker at the Ohio Club meeting held February 24, at 11:00 P.M. in the Union Ballroom.

Poetry Club Discusses Winter Words

The Poetry Club met Monday, March 17, at 7:30 P.M. and discussed the theme of "Winter Words." The club members read poems and shared their own thoughts on the subject.