Father Forgive Them For They Know Not What They Do

As Christ looks down from His cross on this Good Friday, 1974—can we people in our times and places be blamed for indifference to Him and turn away from the bright light of His grace? How many are said to be among the millions that make up the "modern faithful"? He has sent others, teaching, teaching, teaching Him and defining Him to be descended from the cross. He who sent whole nations unclothed to beg for Him. He sent the crosses of His other saints and the world of sinners to bring them to salvation. He sent His grace to each of these persons and families, in their work of play, in letting the government or in employment. From Galot's heights for so many. But Father, forgive them for they know not what they do. For the Catholic College Youth

This great nation of ours is at war! Every American realizes this fact. Every American is agreed that what must come first at a time like this is the welfare of the country, and that all groups and associations that exist among our people must come first to secure that welfare. We now have an all-out war policy by which all the resources of the country are being summoned.

Yes! Our mechanical powers are being utilized fully to produce the most and best in production, our country's men are being drafted into service, our civilian population is supporting all this by cooperating with the OCC. But there is more to do and we, the Catholic youth, must do it. We must oppose the onslaught of the godless philosophy that is enveloping the world; we must destroy the Communist propaganda that is running riot in our country.

Dress Up Your Speech! Brighten Your Personality!

It is springtime! Magnolias bloom, bees hum, and sunflowers stand tall. This is the perfect time to show off your best and brightest. Nothing could be more or less appropriate than wearing floral attire. If you don't have a floral dress, try a floral scarf or a floral hat. It is a revelation to find human beings as nature intended, who, when we overwhelmed by the wonderful appearance of character and spirit of the other, are overwhelmed, in turn, by the beauty of our own.

That The World May Rise From Chaos

With Lent nearing its close, our thoughts naturally turn to Christ's Resurrection. After all, it was the Catholic attempt to purify his soul by acts of mortification and prayer that he, too, may rise with Christ.

In this era, Catholics ask an even greater boon of their Redeemer: the world in which we live is in a state of chaos and confusion, a mere shadow of what it had been. Today, we look to Our Lord, to Christ the Redeemer of the world, as the One who can do it...to bring about the resurrection of chaos to the world.

Know your voice. It should be clear and crisp, too high or too low for the part you are to play. It should be dispassionately accurate, too loud or too soft for the part you are to play. Know what to say and how to say it. Again, how few of us know our own voices? A recording device can be a help. Speak to a microphone and listen to the recording. Then say it in private, say it again. Do it in public. Say it in private. Say it again. Do it in public. Say it in private. Say it again. Do it in public. Say it in private. Say it again. Do it in public.

The Trench Font

Now We See Communism Penetrating Our American Youth

There are big plans afoot for the youth in America, especially the college students. Father, forgive them for they know not what they do.

Dorothy Thompson seems to forget that our youth is a reservoir of talent, untrained, unorganized, untrained, untaught. Yet it is the reservoir that will be the great force of our country. She says her goal is to mold them into something that will be useful to her. In so doing, she is attempting to mold them into something that will be useful to her. She is attempting to mold them into something that will be useful to her. She is attempting to mold them into something that will be useful to her. She is attempting to mold them into something that will be useful to her. She is attempting to mold them into something that will be useful to her.
Freshmen Merit Science Awards For Outstanding Scholarship

Gloria Johnston, Anne Marie Hebbeberger, and Chris Shi Honors

The Science Department announces that Gloria Johnston and Anne Marie Hebbeberger are the annual freshmen awards in the field of biology and chemistry, respectively. This honor is given to the student in each of these fields who ranks highest in scholarship. These awards are presented by Dr. John Smith and become honorary status of their residence.

Gloria Johnston is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Johnston of 108th Street Avenue, St. Louis. Anne Marie Hebbeberger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hebbeberger of 109th and Main Street, St. Louis.

Cartesian Philosophy Discussed At Seminar

Dr. Edward T. Smith, chairman of philosophy at the university, introduced a lecture on Cartesian philosophy as part of the seminar series. Dr. Smith discussed the life and works of René Descartes, the founder of modern philosophy. Descartes' ideas on the nature of reality, knowledge, and existence were central to the discussion.

Descartes' philosophy is often summarized by the famous statement, "I think, therefore I am." This phrase encapsulates the core of Descartes' thought, which is the belief in the existence of the self and the importance of certainty in knowledge. Descartes' views on the mind-body problem also received attention, with implications for modern fields such as psychology and neuroscience.

Monticello Game Ends Successful Basketball Season

By deeming Webster College, 24-18, the Piano, basketball team won its fourth straight game to finish five and three last with one game remaining to be played. For two of these victories the team received Student's Award, and for the third, averaged Honor Tally, Webster College, team, 1941.

In the Webster game, the Piano opened the scoring with a pair of goals to open the game to lead the Wolf by 14-11 in the first half. The second period saw the Sharks up to open the Wolf's scoring in a game of their speed. The novelty of the last game of the season was the ease with which South Carolina prevailed over the Piano. As a whole, the Piano supporter's efforts were rewarded as they settled the 23-19 victory in the final game of the season.

Basic Civil Defense Lectures Prepare Students for O.C.D.

"Civil Defense Common Sense" Says Miss Gartrude Morgan

At an assembly on Monday, March 16, Miss Gartrude Morgan, head of the English Department and Director of Civil Defense, spoke to the students. The session was followed by a question and answer period which was well received. At the end of the assembly, Miss Morgan introduced the Civil Defense lecturer, who will be giving the next series of lectures on Civil Defense. The first lecture will be on Civil Defense and the second on Emergency Services. These lectures are intended to prepare students for their roles in the event of a civil emergency.

Juniors Capture Basketball Trophy

On March 24, the junior men's basketball team defeated the seniors, 54-42, to win the annual Father's Club Trophy. The game was an exciting one, with both teams putting up a good fight. The junior team showed their strength and determination, winning the championship for the second year in a row.

Red, White and Blue Gives Patriotic Trend To Fashions

BY GLORIA PARDEN

It seems the every, every, and man's home has become a fortress, and only in the fashion world. We see the same things everywhere, and only in the fashion world. What is happening in the world of fashion is this: the nation, in common, is dressing up in red, white, and blue. The reason for this is that they are feeling patriotic in color as is the air. The new trend in women's fashion, as seen by many of the designers, is in the use of these colors. Red, white, and blue are the new colors of choice, and the designers are using them to create a new look.
