Mothers Mary Plus

May is the month dedicated to the Blessed Mother, the Church recognizes her importance as the model for all young women to emulate. The Queen of May, Mary, embodies not only her regal qualities but also her admirable womanly virtues. Although times have changed since Mary lived, we can draw inspiration and wisdom from her actions. Mary’s capacity for understanding extends until the present day and we should remember to ask for her help. In leading a sinless life, Mary proved by her example that human beings are capable of overcoming all obstacles to their religion and the practice of it.

During this month let us be especially devoted to Mary. Let us participate in the devotions the Society sponsors daily in the chapel at noon, Mass and Holy Communions daily if possible, help keep the Virgin alive with fresh flowers. Then let us ask Mary to obtain for us the grace to lead a more nearly perfect life in order that we may grow more like her.

Incidentally, May is a good time to initiate a project for a grata on the campus. A little nook where the Blessed Lady reigns is noticeably lacking. A little money, a lot of interest, and some cooperation would go a long way in making that idea a reality.

Congratulations to Mother Mary Plus

Mother General of the Sisters of St. Joseph, we are happy to know that the President of Fontbonne College has been chosen for this office. Although we are highly honored, we regret that Mother Mary Plus will leave Fontbonne. All that she has done for us is appreciated and the results of her work will bear fruit for many years to come.

Wartime Literature and Today’s Students

This is wartime! We are students living in a world at war! But beyond these facts we should be aware of what is happening on the war fronts, what cities have been captured, what ships have been destroyed or lost, and the reasons for these things.

It seems that all of us talk about the war and its implications but do not realize what we are saying. Most students’ knowledge flows from the reading of headlines and one or two articles. This is not a sound basis for conversation. We must read extensively and critically and then form our opinions.

Of course, it is impossible to cover everything but we should aim to read the daily newspapers plus several good periodicals. Editorials and news articles are the main sources from which we should draw our ideas.

Fifteen or twenty minutes of worthwhile reading daily will not shorten the day too much. Let us try it. Then, we can find a minute more why not include it in the reading.

Horse Show Is a Grand Success

The instructors and participants in the Horse Show, the chairman and members of committees, and the students, alumni, and friends of Fontbonne deserve praise and thanks for the successful show that they presented. Larger audiences than in previous years made it possible to continue. Your efforts are appreciated.

Remember Pearl Harbor

Written by Sister Adele Marie, C.S.J., and dedicated to those who gave their lives at Pearl Harbor, December 7, 1941.

A new day dawned over the Pacific and Asia.

Pearl Harbor was shrouded in smoke and ashes. It was the beginning of a crisis that would engulf the world.

In this time of war, we turn to our Father in Heaven for guidance and strength.

Sister Jeanne d’Arc Mourned

Sister Jeanne d’Arc, a sister of the Order of St. Margaret, died at the age of 85 on February 14, 1943. She was a member of the Order of St. Margaret of Scotland, and served as the President of the Scottish National Educational Association. Her contributions to education and Scottish culture have been recognized by many.

Sister Jeanne d’Arc was born in 1858 in Edinburgh, Scotland. She received her education at the University of Edinburgh and later studied in France. In 1883, she joined the Order of St. Margaret and was assigned to Canada, where she taught at the boarding school for girls in Montreal.

In 1901, she was appointed as the President of St. Margaret’s College in Montreal, a position she held until her death. During her tenure, she oversaw the expansion of the school and worked to improve the educational opportunities for girls.

Sister Jeanne d’Arc was known for her dedication to education and her enthusiasm for Scottish culture. She was also a prolific writer and published several books and articles on education and Scottish history.

The loss of Sister Jeanne d’Arc is a great loss to the Order of St. Margaret and to the Scottish community. She will be greatly missed and her legacy will continue to inspire others.

Sister Jeanne d’Arc was buried in the grounds of St. Margaret’s College in Montreal, where she will be remembered as a dedicated educator and a devoted member of the Order of St. Margaret.

Let's Talk It Over...

We were...
Lorraine Fryatt really built the ball up to those tennis matches the afternoon before. But little did we know she saw the same Fryatt collapse in the last match of the day.

Louise O'Connor, presided with a crack for that the time only would see her in the comedy drill, which unfortunately was served tonite.

Alice Lee Prath, Liz Larson, Kay Maguire, Rosemary Davidson, all victims of the Who's a Girl. They look mighty glad about it.

One deserves credit to Lee Prath for thrilling us with her piano recital.

Ruth McNamara for her selection of "Physical Patterns."

Jenoa Kimeko for her colorful characterization of "Wanda."

Marie Remmage for being a perfect Mary Queen.

We hear...
Lorraine Fryatt loudly proclaims that she is going to buy a pair of gloves for herself and doesn't think her present pair out-wears.

Dorothy O'Connor had a visit from a last week. Amongst the variety of talents walked by the visitor was that of a painter that day.

Mary Alice Butler is now renting her wardrobe to all art students who are lucky enough to have the point.

Students Must Secure Rating Books

WASHINGTON — (AP) — In an effort to eliminate the confusion by students, all college and university students are required to carry books and have all of their books registered, which are known as "books on campus" or "books off campus.

It may take a person a good bit of time to learn the names of these books, but it is not unusual for students to find books that they like.

An effort is being made to keep students informed of new books and subject matter, but it is not unusual for books to be found in libraries and in stores.
