OH KING OF PEACE PROTECT US!
In a war torn world, we turn to the Christ Child for help and protection.
His spirit is our only hope!

Port of Bethlehem, Source of Peace

Our celebration of Christmas should be rather different and meaningful this year. The fact that there is a war makes it seem as though humanity will have to be a little more devout in its observances of the Christmas season to celebrate Christ's coming in a truly spiritual manner. Indeed, we are lucky to be able to mention the local, let alone in these times all countries will not enjoy the privileges.

Therefore, on Christmas morning we should be present to the Christ Child in a pure heart and a heart that thinks of peaceful times in the midst of so much hatred and bloodshed.

Faculty News

A Christmas present from the president. What is it? Well, the faculty is given but a few minutes every P.M. and half an hour beginning next quarter for social purposes, and the beloved "greek" class will begin at 9:30 and will follow in five minutes periods through the day. -extra-curricular activities will be taken care of -starting at 12:30 P.M. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

The Dean, Sister Joseph Aloysian, has been appointed a member of the Community Education Planning Committee of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati and is now in charge of the department.

Perhaps the majority of you are not interested in thew in the War, but you will be interested in the work of the Department. The Department is now working on plans for a new building.

Student Activity: All our students work very hard at Christmas.

Heuneus' Bethlehem Remains Story of the Birth of King of Kings

On December 13, 1918, in Heuneus' Bethlehem was presented to the audience at the annual pageant. In two acts were enacted the well-known stories of the Shepherds and the Angel Gabriel. The three latter, the nativity scene at Bethlehem, and the adoration of the Christ Child. The blend of music and pageant is a wonderful sight and the whole production is a most successful one.

Those taking part in the play were: Roland Knapp, John Mark, James Dodds, Albert McCarthy, John Galley, Karl Wirtz, Ruralist, Mary McCarthy, and Groups. The stage was set by the work of the students. The play was a great success and was enjoyed by all who attended.

As Time's Waters Flow

The halls of Fumineo still ring with the bells of the old church and the voices of the people gathering in the old ways of life. And yet, the Christmas spirit is still alive in the hearts of the people. The bells of the old church still ring out in the streets, and the voices of the people are still heard in the old ways of life.

The people in Fumineo are still living in the old ways of life, but there is a new spirit in the air. The people are becoming more aware of their surroundings, and they are beginning to see the world in a new light.

The old ways of life are passing away, and the people are beginning to see the world in a new light. The people are beginning to see the world in a new light, and they are beginning to see the world in a new light. The people are beginning to see the world in a new light, and they are beginning to see the world in a new light.

Do You Know the Story of Fontbonne's Forgotten Six?

Contrary to the opinion of many students, the "Forgotten Men" are not a group of men. They are a group of six women who lived in Fontbonne's dormitory years ago. They were known as the "Forgotten Men" but now they are known as the "Forgotten Six."

The Fontbonne in the opinion of many, is the bore's dormitory, the place where the girls go to escape from their studies. But the truth is, the Fontbonne dormitory was even more important than that. It was the home for many of the "Forgotten Six."

The six women who lived in the Fontbonne dormitory were known as

the "Forgotten Men"

because they were considered to be men.

The Fontbonne in the opinion of different people, is the place where the boys go to escape from their studies.
