Fani, Creator Spiritus

We are students. We have inherited a legacy of culture.

We are indulgent for a Catholic literature. We can see some distance in the realization of our aspiration. We can do our share through the liturgy, through the Mass, and through the study of the scriptures.

We can read our literature under the direction of the Spirit of God.

We can write of it in the state of grace.

Then if one asks, "What of Catholic literature?" I answer, "If I am to be as a child in the family of the Church, in the Church, and in the Church of the world, I must be as a child in the Church, as a child of the Church, and as a child of the world."}
