College Glee Club Presents Concert of Sacred Music

The choral group of students at the University of St. Louis will present its annual Christmas concert at 8:00 p.m. on December 15th in the auditorium of the university. The program will consist of both sacred and secular music, with the latter portion of the program featuring Mendelssohn’s “Hymn to the Great Name.”

Journalism Students Award Honors to David Brown

David Brown, a student at the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri, has been awarded the John Bartlow Martin Award for excellence in journalism. The award is given annually by the American Society of News Editors.

R. Woodward To Sing With Philharmonic

Robert Woodward, a special student at Westminster, will sing with the Philharmonic Orchestra in St. Louis on December 21st. The concert will feature the orchestra’s annual holiday performance.

Miss Baer Collaborates on Article for Journal of Higher Education

Miss Baer, a student at the University of Chicago, has collaborated on an article for the Journal of Higher Education. The article focuses on the role of higher education in promoting social justice.

Dr. Clemens Heads To Deum Forum

Dr. Alfred H. Clemens, professor of philosophy and sociology at the University of Missouri, will speak at the Deum Forum on the topic of “The Importance of Moral Education in Higher Education.”

On the Side

- LAST WEEK we traveled to the Christmas Markets in Germany and Belgium with our German-speaking tour guide. After shopping and enjoying the Christmas lights, we took a break at a cozy coffee shop. The atmosphere was magical, with the warmth of the lights and the scent of coffee filling the air.

- ON THE 30th of December, our teacher’s daughter, Rachel, celebrated her birthday with family and friends. The party was held at her house, and everyone had a great time. The cake was delicious, and the singing was lively.

- THE EISENBAHN is a great restaurant in downtown St. Louis. The food was amazing, and the service was fantastic. We highly recommend it for a great meal.

- CHRISTMAS BASKETS Gathered for Needy

- THE COMMUNITY Christmas basket drive is underway to ensure that everyone has a gift this holiday season. Volunteers are still needed, so please contact your local church or community center to get involved.

- ON THE 25th of December, we celebrated Christmas Eve with family and friends. The tree was beautifully decorated, and the lights were shining brightly.

- CHRISTMAS EVE Services were held in many churches around the city. The services were beautiful, with choral music and readings from the Bible.
Christmas With the Orphans

By June Williams

Putting, shoving, pushing—
An all makes shopping become a big headache! But it's not always a headache, and when you're doing it with people like Georgia and Lillian, the shopping crowd becomes a great escapade, becoming a real adventure, and typically a ceremony of joy. They're both amazing, for they both come from the St. Francis Colored Orphanage, and just recently they joined us in a fulfilled shopping trip.

Our first stop was Santa Rosa. Rose had Georgia and Lillian with me, and recently was in the store of the year. They decided not to fly down to invite their Christmas wishes. Georgia, small but filled with enthusiasm and joy. We called that store. The top of the building was a doll in a rug, but not necessarily a toy store. The store was through the Woods of Whimsy. A chef in a large red coat, and a very funny bear. Georgia told us her guest of three or four of the comic book of Pheasant Springs. The image of happiness was everywhere.

Enoched in a corner, reading a magazine, was the image of toys and a sad merry go round that swung around the 300 feet of the children. "If that is the case, I will re-arrange it so that you can be there," she said. We left the store, and the crowded house, and I gathered those two girls into the car. We arrived at a large crowd with a rain-embossed window. A very unusual house. The Brock's helpers announced that the shop was closed, and the crowd moved on.

Pretty books had a magic look but not as magical as it could get...I just remembered.

Letter to Santa Claus

Here's A Young Lady Who Wants
Only One Thing—The Impossible

Dear Santa Claus,

I've just left my Humanities for a moment, and I could write you this letter. I've been so busy with the Christmas rush, and not at all, but I just have to write to you. So now I've taken the "help by the hands," either the Humanities, or the "help by the hands." I'm beating the drum, and I know I

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities, and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

The best thing is, you're not a mom.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Sister Mary de Pisces

Prints Sacred Pictures For
Phi Beta Chi Girls

A number of Phi Beta Chis held the monthly meeting on December 5th. Phi Beta Chis met in the chapel at Notre Dame, and the meeting was attended by many students. The meetings were organized by Sister Catherine in Notre Dame. The meanings of the pictures were explained by Sister Mary de Pisces. The pictures were presented to the students, and they were given to each member of Phi Beta Chi.

Books Are Gifts That Say
Merry Christmas All Year

Here's a young lady who wants only one thing—The Impossible. I've just left my Humanities, and I could write you this letter. I've been so busy with the Christmas rush, and not at all, but I just have to write to you. So now I've taken the "help by the hands," either the Humanities, or the "help by the hands." I'm beating the drum, and I know I

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

The best thing is, you're not a mom.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Sister Mary de Pisces

Prints Sacred Pictures For
Phi Beta Chi Girls

A number of Phi Beta Chis held the monthly meeting on December 5th. Phi Beta Chis met in the chapel at Notre Dame, and the meeting was attended by many students. The meetings were organized by Sister Catherine in Notre Dame. The meanings of the pictures were explained by Sister Mary de Pisces. The pictures were presented to the students, and they were given to each member of Phi Beta Chi.

Books Are Gifts That Say
Merry Christmas All Year

Here's a young lady who wants only one thing—The Impossible. I've just left my Humanities, and I could write you this letter. I've been so busy with the Christmas rush, and not at all, but I just have to write to you. So now I've taken the "help by the hands," either the Humanities, or the "help by the hands." I'm beating the drum, and I know I

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

The best thing is, you're not a mom.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Sister Mary de Pisces

Prints Sacred Pictures For
Phi Beta Chi Girls

A number of Phi Beta Chis held the monthly meeting on December 5th. Phi Beta Chis met in the chapel at Notre Dame, and the meeting was attended by many students. The meetings were organized by Sister Catherine in Notre Dame. The meanings of the pictures were explained by Sister Mary de Pisces. The pictures were presented to the students, and they were given to each member of Phi Beta Chi.

Books Are Gifts That Say
Merry Christmas All Year

Here's a young lady who wants only one thing—The Impossible. I've just left my Humanities, and I could write you this letter. I've been so busy with the Christmas rush, and not at all, but I just have to write to you. So now I've taken the "help by the hands," either the Humanities, or the "help by the hands." I'm beating the drum, and I know I

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

The best thing is, you're not a mom.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Sister Mary de Pisces

Prints Sacred Pictures For
Phi Beta Chi Girls

A number of Phi Beta Chis held the monthly meeting on December 5th. Phi Beta Chis met in the chapel at Notre Dame, and the meeting was attended by many students. The meetings were organized by Sister Catherine in Notre Dame. The meanings of the pictures were explained by Sister Mary de Pisces. The pictures were presented to the students, and they were given to each member of Phi Beta Chi.

Books Are Gifts That Say
Merry Christmas All Year

Here's a young lady who wants only one thing—The Impossible. I've just left my Humanities, and I could write you this letter. I've been so busy with the Christmas rush, and not at all, but I just have to write to you. So now I've taken the "help by the hands," either the Humanities, or the "help by the hands." I'm beating the drum, and I know I

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

The best thing is, you're not a mom.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Sister Mary de Pisces

Prints Sacred Pictures For
Phi Beta Chi Girls

A number of Phi Beta Chis held the monthly meeting on December 5th. Phi Beta Chis met in the chapel at Notre Dame, and the meeting was attended by many students. The meetings were organized by Sister Catherine in Notre Dame. The meanings of the pictures were explained by Sister Mary de Pisces. The pictures were presented to the students, and they were given to each member of Phi Beta Chi.

Books Are Gifts That Say
Merry Christmas All Year

Here's a young lady who wants only one thing—The Impossible. I've just left my Humanities, and I could write you this letter. I've been so busy with the Christmas rush, and not at all, but I just have to write to you. So now I've taken the "help by the hands," either the Humanities, or the "help by the hands." I'm beating the drum, and I know I

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

The best thing is, you're not a mom.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Sister Mary de Pisces

Prints Sacred Pictures For
Phi Beta Chi Girls

A number of Phi Beta Chis held the monthly meeting on December 5th. Phi Beta Chis met in the chapel at Notre Dame, and the meeting was attended by many students. The meetings were organized by Sister Catherine in Notre Dame. The meanings of the pictures were explained by Sister Mary de Pisces. The pictures were presented to the students, and they were given to each member of Phi Beta Chi.

Books Are Gifts That Say
Merry Christmas All Year

Here's a young lady who wants only one thing—The Impossible. I've just left my Humanities, and I could write you this letter. I've been so busy with the Christmas rush, and not at all, but I just have to write to you. So now I've taken the "help by the hands," either the Humanities, or the "help by the hands." I'm beating the drum, and I know I

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

Oh, Santa, please, for Christmas, and for my Humanities,
and I'll really do the best I can. I think it's the best way.

The best thing is, you're not a mom.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
Add These Suggestions to Your ‘Must’ List for Christmas

By Sildonia Michelson

Christmas, 1945, ... of all Christmas ... zooms as the most heart-stirring, the most thoughtful. A day in which to give thanks as well as to make merry. ... a day when Peace on Earth to Men of Good Will takes on new meaning.

Now with a gift for giving.

A quilted,wired cowl will keep her warm in the evenings at home ... a surprise splinted oval of polished silver or chiffon to tie around the neck, while she sits.

Russian peasant boots of felt with matching embroidered socks, or a pair of felt wrap-around gloves, will warm her cold fingers.

A dainty silver charm from an antique shop to play on a table of frosted glass ... a pair of lace-up toeless booties to keep her feet warm. The living room will be brighter with the warm socks and eyes to the increasing account on the coffee table.

Home Economics Club Hears Tips by Beauty Experts

By Gloria Peiffer

Home Economics Club members and other students listened intently to a demonstration by Mrs. Mary Avis and Mrs. Avis Hines, representatives of The Beauty Expert Mail Order Company, as they demonstrated the Home Economics Room, New York.

The importance of making up one's hair was stressed, and it was pointed out that this requires a knowledge. The stylist of every girl who wants to look her best and make the most of herself.

For that touch the Beauty Expert Mail Order Company is worth a visit.

26 Students Selling TB Health Bullets

Twenty-two freshman girls are selling health foods to the tuberculosis and health society built throughout December. The following girls are the most successful: Helen Allen, Nancy Eyman, Shirley Hoppington, Mary Frances Douglas, Florence Williams, Lily Ebsworth, Alice Peirce, Mary Hays, Jean Strong, Mary Jane Klahn, Helen Krehl, Doris Lewis, Marjorie Albertson, June Kneeland, Roberta Mather, Doris Iselin, David Kipper, Emma Welman, Muriel Merwin, Nancy Hyman, Annie Wallis, Mary Jane Brown, Mary Ellen McCallum, Mary Shawn, Mary Smith, Mary Bailey, and Dorothy Kneeland.

Mr. Sylvior Morena Returns

Mr. Silvior Morena returned to the campus last week after a long stay in Europe. His speech on foreign policy was fascinating.

Mrs. Mary Theresa York, president of the French Association, wishes to extend an invitation to all Alumnae of the New York Christmas Days, which is to be held on December 8th.

The price of admission is a gift certificate for a solid gold dis- cursive brooch. FOUNTAIN FASHIONABLES

December 19, 1945

Sylvia Hopkins, 21, a junior in the College of Education, is a picture of health. Her skin is clear and her hair is a glossy brown. She wears a pearl necklace and a gold bracelet.

The junior class of the faculty are Mrs. Hilda Green, Mrs. Florence Welman, and Mrs. Elizabeth York. Mrs. York is the only surviving member of the original faculty.

Mrs. York was the first woman to teach at the college, and she has been a member of the faculty for more than thirty years.

Mrs. Green is the second woman to teach at the college, and she has been a member of the faculty for more than twenty years.

Mrs. Welman is the third woman to teach at the college, and she has been a member of the faculty for more than fifteen years.

The three women are all highly respected for their teaching and their contributions to the college.

Fountain Fashions

December 19, 1945

Sylvia Hopkins, 21, a junior in the College of Education, is a picture of health. Her skin is clear and her hair is a glossy brown. She wears a pearl necklace and a gold bracelet.
For Bethlehem's Babe

There is a baby lying in the stable of Bethlehem, a silent, sleeping little boy, who will die from the world with peace and love. And men the world over have come to see and to adore the Child of whom Jesus said, "He shall become a people's peace." We have longed for a child who would bring to the world a new spirit of brotherhood, a new sense of spiritual unity.

The Babe of Bethlehem, born in the stable of Bethlehem, is a symbol of peace and love. He brings a message of goodwill to men of all lands. He is a reminder that every human being is a child of God and that all men are brothers.

Shavings...

Shavings is a place of hospitality. A cozy corner of a hotel where the weary traveler can find comfort and rest. The staff is always friendly and eager to make the visitor feel at home. The accommodations are clean and comfortable, and the meals are hearty and satisfying. Shavings is a place where one can find a quiet moment to reflect on life's challenges and to find strength and solace.

Guest Work

This article was written for the Foxtrot by Miss Gertrude E. Morgan, who is employed as a secretary at the Foxtrot. She is responsible for the publication of the Foxtrot, and her duties include editing, writing, and design. Her work has been featured in numerous publications, and she is known for her creativity and attention to detail.

By GERTRUDE E. MORGAN

A young woman entered the office of the Foxtrot, looking tired and discouraged. She had just lost her job and was feeling overwhelmed by the prospect of finding a new one.

"What can I do?" she asked, her voice filled with despair.

"I don't know," the Foxtrot replied. "You've always been so professional. I can't believe you're having such a hard time.

"It's just a lot of stuff," the woman said. "I can't keep up."

"I know," the Foxtrot said. "But you're not alone. There are plenty of us out there who are struggling to find work."

"I just want to do something," the woman said. "I want to make a difference.

"You already are," the Foxtrot said. "You're a hardworking, dedicated employee. You've always been a valuable asset to the Foxtrot."

"Thank you," the woman said. "I appreciate your support."

"Anytime," the Foxtrot said. "Just remember, you're not alone. We're all in this together."

The woman left the office, feeling inspired and determined. She knew she could do it. She was a hardworking, dedicated employee, and she was going to make a difference.