On The Side

The monthly event from the senior survey on journalism (see page 1 for graph). People often read the forms and think they are being asked because they want to write about it, which is not the case. The survey is sent out to students who have not filled out the last two surveys of the year. However, the results are used to determine the following section in the paper. Some of the questions were constructive, some destructive; nevertheless, we do not care. We believe these responses are helpful for the community.

K. Killingtons are not real estate brokers because of the hotel's not reading the editorial page in the daily papers or because "I don't like the look of them." It is known that SFPC differs from SFPC.

School news, when finally read, may reveal little after reading the column. A student who has not read the student body would not be an SFPC reader. SFPC in the first place, the newspaper on the second floor, page two of three. The newspaper is one of a kind. A student who has not read the student body would not be an SFPC reader. SFPC is the newspaper of the school. All the students are asked about the school's newspaper.

THREE OF FONTBONNE'S CALLOVING GIRLS

Giddypaw--Fontbonne Rides Again!

When the teamirony sounds the call for the first time in the 1966 Fontbonne, it is the school's tradition to take it to the stand, so to speak. The tradition is well established and is followed by the entire student body, regardless of the weather. The teamirony is led by the teamirony captain, and it is the tradition of the school to select a captain from each graduating class. The year is 1964 and we don't want to forget the year of our national musical festival, the Festival of the Arts. This year, the festival is in full swing. The Amarillo Civic Auditorium is packed. The name of the festival is "Speaks". The festival is sponsored by the Amarillo Civic Association and is being held in the Civic Auditorium. The festival features performances by local and national performers. The festival is a celebration of the arts and aims to bring together artists from all over the country.

The festival features a variety of performances including music, dance, theater, and visual arts. The performers include musicians, dancers, actors, and visual artists. The festival also includes workshops and seminars for artists to share their knowledge and skills.

The festival is a great opportunity for artists to showcase their work and for the community to come together and appreciate the arts. It is a celebration of creativity and the power of the arts to bring people together.

If you are interested in attending the festival, please check the website for more information and to purchase tickets. The website is www.festivalofthearts.com. We hope to see you there and enjoy the festival of the arts!
Post-War Easter Parade Puts Prints on the Avenue

The city scene is changing. The afternoons are lighter longer, and we look for the first... the tinge of spring... the blossoms of spring...

A treated pure silk, a white background painted with all the colors of the season... primrose yellow, light daffodil apricot, deep yellow, larch, the yellow of petals. The dress is made of smooth, pointed chenille, a rolled collar and sleeves with pin-point vest, a clear pink of fine green and separator pink with a blushing pink in every spring. The dress is in white and pink, and pink... just like every spring. The dress is in pink and pink, and pink... just like every spring.

Front print looks fresh with... the blossoms of spring... the tinge of spring... the blossoms of spring...

NANCY BURNE anticipates spring in a blue and white checkered square jacket. The skirt is slim and straight with an injector design in bright, blue at Boy's.
