Suffer Little Freshmen

There is a question for discussion on the Student Council this week. It is in connection with the fact that the student body has increased within the last two years, and it is necessary for the organization to be reconstituted. The question is whether the student body should be increased or decreased. The discussion will take place on Monday, April 19th.

May And Mary

In the spring a young girl's family likely turns to thinking of love. In May, the essence of springtime, when every sappy takes its turn, let he be thoughts of a love that is raised above the level of everyday life. This is the love of May And Mary.

A maiden's love is supposed to be the quintessence of all love in a pure form. May And Mary, from the hearts of all the women of the world to be the mother of the world. The true, the love given to us as our mother. It was God's will that she should be our mother. God's will that she should be loved. That love should be revered.

Everything is in its favor. We can't find it to deserve a fellow man who goes out of his way to do things for us. May And Mary always has the last and the traditional helping hand.

Love has a language all its own, the poet's language - that language which expresses itself in suitable action rather than in words. May, dedicated to Mary, is a good time to express the love you feel for her.

Fonblanche and NVCS

This month Fonblanche joined the National Federation of Catholic College Students. This moves Fonblanche right off Winton St., and puts the school down in the most vital organization we can be connected with today.

The NFCCS realizes the need for a stronger and more effective Catholic influence in student life, national and international. This is particularly pertinent in the RSCV, where a strong Catholic voice must be heard.

This organization is designed to become an integral part of the school, thus making it possible for each one of the students to participate directly in the affairs of the University and the post-college community.

been members of the Association, which is the largest organization of Catholic college students in the world. By excluding freshmen from membership in the Association, they are also excluding freshmen from all post-college activities during the time they are in college.

Who Put the B on Mary Therece

Mary Thomas is a senior, a straight A student who is in high school and takes honors classes. She is one of the most popular girls on campus, and she is always willing to help others.

It's a good bet, however, that the B will not be shown at the end of the year.

Mary, Ath., April 19, was the date of the graduation banquet at the Old Cathedral. A banquet was served at the York Club, and the program was attended by 150 students, who were seated in the main dining room.

Independence Day, July 4th, is the day on which the American Revolution began. It is a day on which Americans express their love for their country.

Coughlin Takes First Prize as Pope

Mary Jane Coughlin, a senior at the DeLaSalle high school, was the winner of the 1929 scholarship competition. Mary Jane, as the 'Papal' Pope, was consistent in her behavior throughout the competition.

The St. Louis University College of Medicine had its final meeting on the first day of the new academic year. A group of students was elected to the society of professors for the following year. The new group includes members who were not in the previous group.

Today's participants of the competition will be given prizes by the Mother's Club of DeLaSalle. The prizes will be given to the students who are judged to have the best performance in the competition. The winners will be announced at the end of the day.
You In The Spring

When spring comes dancing in, you find yourself wanting to dance about. And what can be a more refreshing spring tonic than a burst of fresh, breezy vitality? When you awaken from the slumber of winter, it's as though a new lease on life is being granted to you. And there's nothing more invigorating than a walk in the fresh air, feeling the warmth of the sun on your face. So let's embrace the spirit of spring and dance to its tune.

Good Enough to Eat

When spring comes, nature seems to wake up and welcome the season with open arms. The days grow longer, the sun shines brighter, and the air is filled with a sense of renewal. In the spirit of this new beginning, let's explore the joy of cooking with the freshest ingredients of the season. Whether it's a simple salad or a full-fledged feast, there's nothing more satisfying than the taste of fresh, locally sourced produce. So let's savor the flavors of spring and indulge in the good enough to eat spirit of the season.

BIRTH RETURNS

The designers set themselves to work, taking up new tasks for each rising sun. The school was open, and the air was filled with the sound of children's laughter and the clatter of books. Everyone was happy to be back in their classrooms, and the days were filled with learning and fun. The feeling of returning to school was a joyful one, and everyone was eager to get started on the new year.

Cotton Formals

The new season of cotton formals has arrived, and the town is buzzing with excitement. The dresses are light and airy, perfect for the warm weather. The colors are vibrant and eye-catching, with shades of pink, blue, and green. The fabrics are soft and comfortable, and the designs are elegant and sophisticated. It's a beautiful time of year, and the cotton formals are the perfect way to celebrate it.

Secon On and Off the Campus

Eldorado Naps with that pretty cozy brown hat, lacy white cotton gloves, and red patent leather shoes. She is the epitome of grace and elegance, walking with a confident stride. Her brown eyes sparkle with intelligence, and her smile is warm and welcoming. She is truly a sight to behold.

Graduation: ready to take on the world. She is determined and focused, ready to embrace the challenges that lie ahead. Her future is bright, and she is ready to make the most of it.

Delta Phi to Sponsor Exhibit, Art of Student Works' Show

Delta Phi will sponsor two exhibits, an art exhibit and a music exhibit on May 24 and 25 respectively. The exhibits will be held in the art department, and all proceeds will go to the art department. The exhibitions will be a great opportunity for students to showcase their talents and share their passion for the arts.

Sap...She's No Slave to Convention

"Sap...She's No Slave to Convention," is a song by Minnie Pearl. The song was written by 064 Richard White and Joe Ely, and it was recorded on Minnie Pearl's album "Live at the Opry" in 1967.

"Sap...She's No Slave to Convention" is a humorous and lighthearted song that celebrates the spirit of individuality and freedom. The lyrics are filled with wit and charm, and the melody is catchy and infectious. It's a song that celebrates the power of being true to oneself and living life on one's own terms.

A physical education major, Minnie was the only woman in her class and was often the butt of the jokes. She was a member of the FIAA for three years and won her points for a row at her school's annual sports event, which is a proud moment in her life. As she runs up the steps and into the school, the audience cheers her on, and she takes a deep breath, knowing that she has something special to share with them.

"Sap...She's No Slave to Convention" is a classic country song that has become a beloved part of Minnie Pearl's repertoire. It's a song that celebrates the spirit of individuality and freedom, and it's a reminder that we should all be proud of who we are and embrace our uniqueness.

On April 20, 2014, Minnie Pearl performed "Sap...She's No Slave to Convention" on the Grand Ole Opry, and it was a moment of pure joy and celebration. The crowd was energized, and the song was a hit. It's a song that will forever be remembered as a classic of country music, and it's a true testament to Minnie Pearl's talent and hard work.

On the evening of April 20, 2014, Minnie Pearl was the guest performer at the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tennessee. The audience was thrilled, and the concert was a huge success. Minnie Pearl performed a variety of songs, including "Sap...She's No Slave to Convention," and the crowd was energized. It was a night to remember, and Minnie Pearl left the audience with memories that would last a lifetime.
Academy Riders Off Without Horse Show

Marry Edinier at St. Joseph’s Academy was the champion of the horse show at the Social’s Halls, which was held at Bolivar High School. An event in the social’s program included the show, and the girls took part in the various events.

The best pony class was awarded to Miss Mabel Newcomb, and the best rider was given to Miss Edith Newcomb.

Fonbonne in Spring Training

“Strike two, ball three!” cries the batter, his bat in hand, trying to hit the pitcher. Here comes the pitch, and..."...but when a player times to steal a base, when the pitcher’s speed is not up to par, he may lose the game.”

Baseball practices on south campus are being held. In the past, practice time has been limited due to weather conditions. This year, however, the boys of the team are putting in more time, and the practice is being more complete. A doubleheader will be held on May 23rd.

According to Miss Willis, the boys have improved their batting and base running. The practice schedule has been revised to include more batting practice and base running. The coach of the team, Mr. Nichols, has been directing the practice.

Are There Too Many Dances Or Not Enough Dates?

By MARK KINGSTON

For many years Petroloans have been clamoring for more dances than they have dates. Complete records show that “we have more dates.”

What do you get when you add a ball and a date? A social, of course. And when a ball and a date go on without any conversation, the result is a “how do you do?” The socials have been created to give the Petroloans an opportunity to meet new people and have a good time.

Dancing is 7 Months

Last year, a dance called “The School Dance” was held. This year, the dance is called “The Petroloans’ Dance.” The dance is given annually, and it is always held on the last day of school. The Petroloans’ Dance is a popular event among the students.

The Font

The Font staff includes a group of talented students who work hard to produce a quality newspaper. The Font is published weekly and distributed to all students and faculty members.

School Invited To Play Day

Lindseth College will host its annual Play Day on May 4th. The program will include a variety of activities, including baseball, softball, and tennis.
