Getting a press ready is no easy job. Just ask a committee chairman! Taking a moment out to listen to the latest by Frankie Lane are the chairmen of the big Junior-Prom. Jane Tracy and Mary Jeanne Reddy dropped to the floor with exhaustion. Peggy Dolan, Pat Meyer and Theresa Fisher headed for the nearest chairs, but Rosemary Lesby, Marilyn Basile, Rheti Faino and Mary Ellen Blotto still had enough strength to attend.

While Jane was talking down the prices of the local florists, Rosemary was swatting the paint brushes and Marilyn was debating with the class whether or not it would look right to give the seniors Lincoln-Confederate as souvenirs. Pat and Peggy got their work over with easily, but Rheti and Mary Jeanne still have theirs in the office. Mary Ellen has been humming "The Old Chaperone" around the chesm lab and Theresa has found the job of general chairman rough. Ruth Bueser was so busy finding a "reasonable but good" printer that she couldn't even join her fellow-workers in the pictures.

Rumors have it that next year there will be a Junior-Junior Baked Sale instead of a Junior-Junior Prom. Less strenuous on the chairman!

SODALITY GIVES PARTY TODAY
A festive seasonal affair planned to be the event of the month, the annual sodality Christmas party was held.

The holiday spirit will be in evidence, as all the students and the religious and lay faculty gather around the Christmas tree and exchange gifts. The event will be the annual Santa Claus, who will distribute gifts to the faculty.

Refreshments will include traditional holiday snacks. Glee Club will sing carols, as the party goes on with bright and boisterous singing of well-loved Christmas carols.

Plans for this party have been worked out under the direction of the general chairman, Betty McDonnell, Eleanor Storer of the sodality's entertained committee; Glee Club assisted in the food committee; Eleanor Storer in supervising decorations. Judy Meehan managed publicity. The sodality council will act as cleaning committee.

PI GAMMA MU BEGINS HERE
Fontbonne college has been invited to become affiliated with the national social science honor society, Pi Gamma Mu. Pi Gamma Mu occupies a position in the field of social sciences comparable to that of Phi Beta Kappa in the field of literary studies and of Sigma Xi in the natural sciences. The major colleges and universities in the United States are affiliated.

Students in sociology, economics, political science, history, or other social sciences are eligible for membership in the society, and if they can meet the requirements of the national by-laws of Pi Gamma Mu.

Te Deum Welcomes Monsignor Flanagan
Te Deum again welcomed St. Vincent's, Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Flanagan of St. Mary's on Jan. 11, 1947. This monsignor, who has been in the field of social work for 25 years, is now director of the National Catholic Welfare Council.

He is the father of La Fontaine college in the arts and sciences of St. Louis University. He is a Jesuit and has been in the field of social work for 25 years.

BIRD SONGS AVAILABLE
All girls who wish to have the same songs for the prom can get the song book. The book contains a list of birdsongs and includes their names. The book cost 50 cents, and all the money raised will be used to purchase birdsongs for the prom.

Yale family members and guests of the chairman will be welcomed.

The long-awaited Junior-Junior Prom will be held Friday, Jan. 16. The Gold Room at Hotel Jefferson has been selected both because it is available to provide a fitting background for the elegance of the promenade and because it can accommodate the large number of students and alumni expected to attend.

Herb Mahler's orchestra will begin the same music as at 8 p.m. Mr. Mahler played at the last prom and in the popular favorite of high schools and colleges in this city. The mood and atmosphere expected this year was to be chosen to play for the United Poppy Ball.

BANG ORCHARD AT 10 P.M.
The Grand March at 10 p.m. will be led by Herb Fisher, senior class president, followed by Faa Mae Murray, senior class president. The junior class will be the first to leave. The grand march will feature the songs of the junior class.

During the promenade, the orchestra will play the popular favorite of high schools and colleges in this city. The mood and atmosphere expected this year was to be chosen to play for the United Poppy Ball.

Up-And-Coming
Dec. 13-15, p.m., Christmas party, conference.
Dec. 15-16, p.m., Christmas play, radio.
Dec. 16-17, p.m., Glee Club groups, Yule, St. Louis university, students.
Dec. 17-18, Student council.

"Every teacher has his dream-girl. I must confess that I have mine, too, and I should like to portray for you the dream-girl of the naughtiest, impetuous, and disrespectful members of the class whose mischievous pranks were the cause of my headaches and back-breaking work."

My dream-girl is somewhere between four and seven feet tall, with long, curly hair, and a face that is as beautiful as a work of art. She has a smile that could light up a room, and her laughter is music to my ears. She is the type of girl that every teacher dreams of teaching in his class.

I am not going to describe her physical appearance, as I believe that beauty is only skin deep. What matters most is the character and personality of a girl. My dream-girl is intelligent, kind, and considerate. She always helps her classmates with their work, and she never hesitates to give advice when needed.

My dream-girl is also a good student. She never misses a class, and she always turns in her homework on time. Her work is always neat and well-presented. She is the type of student that every teacher dreams of having in his class.

I am not going to describe her in any more detail, as I believe that words cannot do her justice. My dream-girl is a perfect blend of beauty, intelligence, and character, and she is the type of girl that every teacher dreams of teaching.
