good old days

Questions on transportation methods seem to be having upon us many vexatious questions, as if you feel the way the world moves. A popular phrase is that 'he who pays the piper gets the tune.' In the case of the recent strikes and the present transportation difficulties, this phrase is particularly applicable. If you are looking for a way to avoid the music of the strike, you might consider taking a walk or a bicycle ride. This is a good way to get some exercise and enjoy the outdoors. If you have a car, you might consider taking a trip to a nearby city or town. This can be a great way to see new places and experience different cultures. Overall, the key to avoiding transportation difficulties is to be flexible and think creatively about how to get around.
