Alumnae Honor Young Grads

The seniors will be guests of honor at the Annual Banquet of the Alumnae Association of the Old Lady of Loretto. The annual event will be held in the Dining Hall of the College on April 11. In attendance will be the seniors and their guests. A hostess award will be given to the seniors for their cooperation in planning and attending the event. The seniors will be seated at the head table and will be presented with their Alumnae Honor Young Grad diplomas. The banquet will begin at 6:30 PM with a social hour. The dinner will be served at 7:00 PM.
Marion Stein Designs Cover For Summer Session Bulletin

Marion Stein, senior art major, last year famed for having her hearing illusion used as a cover for the summer issue of the 1966 Foundation Bulletin, is now the current editor of the Bulletin. Mrs. Stein is a member of the Alpha Kappa Phi Student Government, and has been a student at the University of Missouri for two years.

The cover design is of a creative nature, and Stein hopes to have her design used in the future as a cover for the Bulletin. The design will be featured in the summer issue of the Bulletin, and will be available for purchase at the University Bookstore.

Clare Burke, Nancie Brown Are Top Riders

Competition in the championship class of the Fontbonne Horse Show, April 17, 18, and 19, will be highlighted by the presence of two top thoroughbred names. These two world-known authorities are Claire Burke, winner of the trophy in 1965, and Nancie Brown, the winner in 1964.

The championship class is scheduled for the final day of the show, scheduled for Saturday night, and will be the last event of the week. It is open to entries from first and second place winners in the regular and academy divisions.

Clare Burke, who retired the Marshall trophy in 1965, is a member of the horse show committee. Burke will be on hand to recognize the winners of the show.

Alumna Writes For Dietetics Journal

The name of Mary Schilling, 57 alumna of St. Louis Jewish Hospital, has recently been published in the Journal of the American Dietetic Association as an editor. Her most recent article, published in the April issue, was her thesis for a master's degree in dietetic nutrition.

Burke, along with her husband, have been active in the dietetics field, and have contributed to the advancement of the profession.

Met Opera Coming To St. Louis in May

Fontbonne students will be glad to know that the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York will present four major operas in St. Louis, May 21, 22, 23, and 24. These include: Aida, Cavalleria, La Traviata, and La Bohème. They are in the order: forty-five in the study.

Burke will be the first opera presented on May 21 at 8 p.m., and will star Robert Merrill, Enrico Caruso, and Maurotesta. The opera will be presented at the University of Missouri, and will be broadcast live over the radio.

On May 22, at 8 p.m., La Bohème will be presented, starring Leontyne Price and Enrico Caruso. Leontyne Price and Enrico Caruso, will be joined by Frank LaRue, La Scala, and will tour the United States in 1966.

"Why Required Subjects Forum"

"Why Required Subjects?" is the topic for the forum sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association. The forum is to be held April 21 at 7:30 in the Union hall.

The chairman of the panel will be Student Union Secretary. Other panel members will be Miss Helen, Mary Miller, and Miss Margaret Johnson. They will represent the faculty. Mrs. Ellen Rosen is the only one chosen so far to represent the students. There will be additional faculty and student representatives, who will be chosen at a later date.

The faculty members will give the values of the required subjects: freshmen English, philosophy, speech, and humanities. The students in return will give their views on the value of these subjects.

There will be further interaction on this later. At present the plan is incomplete.

Senior Pictures:

An Inalienable Right

The Royal Purple staff at Kansas State College is likely to be radically altered by the addition of two new individuals. Here in the picture story on this page, the introduction to the year, you will find the picture of two new students who have been promoted to the Banes Club.

Let's Dance at an Annual Promenade Friday, May 9

Memories of knighthood in college will often be highlighted by one of the great nights of March. The Popular Purple and Delta Sigma Epsilon will be the theme for the evening.

Class president, Lois Kropp, has set up eight committees which are conducting the complete plans for the event. The plans will be furthered, and the program will be provided by Herman Rushner orchestra. A dance feature will be set up under the direction of Leonard Nunez and Dr. William Van Tuy. The stage will be "Whitney Hall". Members of the student clubs have volunteered to assist with refreshments.

Committee chairs are: Lorraine Schlote, president; Rosemary Shearer, co-chairwoman, Helena Richter, refreshments; Janet Prez, hubert and program; Jean McCormick, photography; Laurel Harris, photography; Mary Ann Stenger, advertising.

Theatre Group Presents Check

Through the efforts of the Cardinal Drama Club, Community Theatre Group, a check for four hundred and fifty dollars has been presented to the Student Council for the purchase of an illuminated sign. The Theatre Group held a recently entitled "The Show," by George Kelly for two nights at Fontbonne in February, and Miss Linda Marie Wausenheimer, director of the Community Department of Fontbonne to direct the group.

This Is A Story About Damon Runyon, Known As The Bard Of Mindy's Restaurant

One of his earliest stories is a tale about the "Bland Inn, a popular name for a popular inn," and it was the subject of the story "A Man and a Woman," which appeared in the "New York Times" in 1923. In the story, the inn is run by a man named John and his wife, Mary. The story begins with John telling Mary about his plans to buy a new bar for the inn. Mary is hesitant, but John convinces her that they need it to keep the inn in business. The story goes on to describe the day-to-day life at the inn, with John and Mary serving drinks and food to their customers. The story ends with John and Mary sitting in the back room of the inn, talking about their future and the inn's success.
