The Ryan Hall Den was turned into a Red Cross Blood Bank on the last day of April. Shown in the picture are Miss Virginia Reckley, R.N., in charge, and Miss Eileen Fennell, who gave blood.

The statue of Our Lady, given to Fontbonne by the Sodality of Our Lady, was made by Hills Arnold. It stands on an imposing site in front of Ryan Hall where the fountain originally was. The statue was blessed May Day, Tuesday, May 12, by Rev. Walter Goerge, C.S., rector professor, on a part of the Mary Day ceremonies. He was assisted by Rev. Emil Brown, M.S.F., Rev. Bernard Krieger, C.S., and Rev. Bernard Kramer, S.M., of the religion faculty.

When the Fontbonne Alumnae met May 3 for their annual breakfast, they announced that Rev. McCormack, senior, had won the Alumnae award to be awarded Baccalaureate evening because of her outstanding leadership, loyalty, and service to Fontbonne and that Summa Leach, sophomore, had won the Alumnae award for her high grades. In this picture are the two students, Joan and Sue Mary May Mumper, chairman of the Alumnae Branch Committee, Miss. Walter Fullman, chairman of the nominating committee.
Hillis Arnold, Creator of New Statue Of Our Lady, Says Gesture of Hands Expresses Welcome to Christians

"The statue of Our Lady on the Font campus is a symbol of her love and kindness, for she is the mother of all people."

In this way, Mrs. Arnold explains the reason for the position of the statue in the new campus area that has been dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary. The statue was unveiled on April 12th, at the dedication ceremony.

"Only by the slightest motion will our hands express welcome to everyone and be a source of joy to all."

The statue stands on the central area of the new campus, overlooking the main campus buildings.

"Our Lady is the symbol of love and kindness, and her gesture of welcome is an expression of her love for all people."

The statue is made of marble and stands 12 feet tall.

Alumna Makes Plea For Teachers In Parochial Schools

Mrs. James W. Welch (Virginia C. 1903) addressed the assembly at the Communion break in Fontbonne dining room May 5 to interest them in the program to revitalize Catholic education for the parochial schools which the alums are deeply involved in the schools system under Fr. James H. Hoffman, superintendent.

This is one of the many addresses Mrs. Welch is giving this spring to various women’s organizations to gain their cooperation in the interest of the parochial schools and having their hearts caught by the parochia.

Mrs. Welch has an office in the hall of residence of the school (officials at 1010 Lindell Blvd. and can be reached at Jefferson 1987, or at her home, 4337 Maryland Avenue). Her next talk about women’s programs is due to be given in the parochial schools.

Summer Program Sounds Interesting

The Center, St. Louis’ morning plan for Catholics is about to embark on a semester of journalism, literary and the arts courses. Among the more interesting are: Marion B. Smith (Alumna) to be the assistant at the newsroom; and writing center.-ted at the Iona Center. She is a student of the arts and writing.-ted faculty member of the Center.

Each Wednesday evening at 7 p.m., a speaker, likely be a local or a visitor, will present the weekly plan of Catholic life.

Hints for Clubs and Officers As School Year Nears Close

By Nancy Reppou

This is the final and second part of this series. After sharing these tips on how to organize and run successful clubs, let us turn our attention to financial management. This includes budgeting, fundraising, and balancing the club’s finances.

Local News

For the past few months, our school has been focusing on organizing and running successful clubs. Here are some tips on how to organize and run effective clubs.

Personal Contact

One of the most important (and one of the most effective) ways of communication in personal selling is personal contact. In personal contact, we learn that which may not be communicated through any other means. This is because personal contact allows us to observe the person we are talking to, and this can provide us with valuable information that we can use in our presentations.

Blindfold Michael the dark angel.
Blindfold John the blacksmith.
Blindfold art, thus, move, remember.

Bess, Mr. Father, before I die...I just stared my parents.
I am terribly afraid for having offended thee.
To thee do we pay our landscape children of Eve.
Morning and evening in this valley of death.

THE REMEDY—Children should be taught both the meaning and the etymology of their English phonetics.

Anthropologist’s Delight

Formerly it was the practice of the American magazine entitled "The Proceedings of the New York State Museum" to notify the anthropologist of his discovery.

The truth is, you personally have no more to do with your anthropology.

Sincerely,

Blindfold

Parasite people, no longer popular, do not resemble other people, a sense of sympathy, a Christian sense of humility...it’s the basis of all. Ours and fame treats that you a little and an enemy of his children...it’s the basis of all. Ours and fame treats that you a little and an enemy of his children...it’s the basis of all. Ours and fame treats that you a little and an enemy of his children...it’s the basis of all. Ours and fame treats that you a little and an enemy of his children...it’s the basis of all.
