K. Madras, J. Bianchi, A. Rischbieter Are Candidates For Homecoming Queen

The crowning of a queen from the freshman class is announced in the Student Body. On Sept. 6, when the candidates' names are to be written on the official ballot sheets, voting will commence and continue until 7 p.m. Voting will be held in the auditorium of the Student Union. The announcement of the names will take place in the auditorium during the first half of the class period. The winner will be crowned at the Homecoming Dance on Oct. 1.

Classes Meet New Faculty Member

When classes began last month, the biology department welcomed a new faculty member, Dr. William V. Haney. Dr. Haney has been teaching at the University of Illinois for the past six years and has joined the faculty at Fontbonne College as a full-time instructor. He has taught courses in general biology and environmental science. He is currently working on a project related to the ecology of freshwater ecosystems. Dr. Haney's research interests include the effects of pollution on aquatic communities and the conservation of endangered species. He is highly regarded by his peers and is expected to make a significant contribution to the biology department.

College Day Rolls Around Again

Geraldine Schmilke Named Co-Chair of College Day

A column published by the Student Paper, a daily newspaper published by the students of Fontbonne College, announced that Geraldine Schmilke, a senior in the Department of Psychology, has been named co-chair of College Day, the annual event that is held on the campus. College Day is a day of activities and events that are open to the public and is held on the campus. The events include a variety of activities such as performances, workshops, and exhibits. This year's College Day will be held on October 22, and the event will be open to the public. The theme of this year's College Day is "Exploring the Arts," and there will be a variety of events and activities related to the arts, including music, dance, and theater. The event is expected to attract a large number of people, and it is hoped that it will be a successful event for the college.

Read "All God's Children; You're In For A Treat"

The latest Christopher book, "All God's Children, is out now. He is on the press of Random House, but it is not available through bookstores. The book has been described as a "compendium of black humor" and "a collection of the worst of our race." It contains stories, poems, and essays that explore the complexities of African American life in the United States.

FAC Plans For Annual Over-Night

Advance preparations for the annual F.A.C. Over-Night, which will take place on Fiedler House, 3rd, are being organized. The trip will be made in cars, and the group will return immediately after the last class. All equipment, including radios and bikes, will have to be brought by each student. The trip will conclude on Friday, Oct. 14. F.A.C. members in attendance should be prepared to leave at 8 a.m. on Friday morning.

Women In Politics: Here's What Some Think About It

Women are going into politics more and more—evidence, many recent appointments by the administration and a result of new opportunities in the last few years. What do Catholic college students think of this trend? If they listen to the recent essay, "Women in Politics," they would think the trend to continue and grow, and perhaps even take on political significance in the near future.

Fresenews Elect J. Kilbourne

The freshmen representative to the Student Council is J. Kilbourne, who was chosen by his class at the Oct. 12 meeting. Winner of a scholarship to Fiedler House, he is also a member of the freshman basketball team and interested in literature and classics.

Shopping in Colon, Panama

Is Fun. You Can Buy Anything

During the past summer, it was my pleasure to travel by ship from New Orleans to Panama, to Columbia, South America, and then back to ourfirst port of call, Christobal, Panama. That I wish to write about the city's streets, and the shops, and the shops, and the shops. The city is a hub of many different economies, and the shops are full of goods from all over the world. The city's streets are bustling with life, and the shops are filled with goods from all over the world.

Clayton Commons in Ceremony
The Henrobve R. A. Campbell, mayor of Clayton, brought to Fontbonne last night at the Whirlwind-Dan’s, a special "Commemorative" banquet and farewell banquet to last two women to lend leadership to the St. Louis County Health Department.
These meetings were a part of the inspection program carried on by Clayton. DR. William Van Tuyt, who sponsored the award for the banquets.

S. Briggsman Was "Miss Clayton"
S. Briggsman, sophomore, went to the "Rose Party" dinner at St. Louis County Health Department to be asked if she was interested in the ceremony and submitted the contest with her beautiful effervescence.

Some weeks later, Miss was invited to appear on Ross Davis' TV show. Again many people heard her, among them was Dr. Hermann Kahl, who asked her if she was interested in organizing a similar program for another TV show. She agreed, and the Miss Clayton competition was born.

On Aug. 31 at the Simpson Theater, girls from Clayton High School competed in the much anticipated "Miss Clayton" competition. The competition was a great success, and the winner was Miss Clayton.

KSLH On Air Monday-Friday

The KSLH radio station, based in the University of Missouri-St. Louis, has been broadcasting at 102.7 FM since its inception. The station prides itself on its diverse programming, which includes music, news, and sports.

Conferences hosted by the station have included the National Conference of the National Society of Black Women, the National Conference of the Association for Women in Science, and the National Conference of the American Federation of Teachers. The station has been recognized for its contributions to the community and has received numerous awards for its programming and community involvement.

The station continues to grow and evolve, offering students and the community a platform to share their voices and ideas.
the day we live in Open your eyes, dear reader. Listen. What do you see? A world in which everyone speaks of God? It is not a better, but a volume more vast we must continue to explore all of this present day. It is essential to consider the bills that cover our walls, the echoes and patterns of news, the advertising of reality films and novels, to perceive that the world has made itself up as it is.

It is necessary to remain on this earth (what is that without defining it?) and not to be a blind, unthinking, unenlightened, those who seek to be of this time, and those who are being blinded with this other world.

What's What On Campus

STUDY DAY - Oct 18th
11:00am - 4:30pm - Medallie Hall

what's the answer? how different?

The first day of the fall semester is here, and you're probably heard some generalizations such as "freshman mentality" in reference to T.C.C.S. Or, but actually what even it at T.C.C. actually is?

The people present are interested in Catholic College students on campus, bringing Christ into their immediate environment. This year, they realize that Christ must first dwell in their homes, that they must unfold the lessons spiritually into other Catholics. A change in religion, a change in culture, change in society, change in the economy, change in the world. It is not just enough to stop and say, "This is what we're doing." We are saying, "This is what we're doing."

We are in favor of bringing this issue to light, of discovering it in an unspoken way. We are both sides are united in this way.

The National Federation of Catholic College Students (NFCCS) has announced the 1968-69 Student Government Officers. The officers then work to organize the students on campus and the world to Christ.
