Fontbonne Celebrates Traditional College Day, Tomorrow, Oct. 15

Fontbonne University in St. Louis, Missouri, is celebrating its 151st anniversary on October 15. The University will host a number of events throughout the day to commemorate this milestone. The day will include a traditional Mass, a wreath-laying ceremony, and a wreath-laying ceremony at the University’s cornerstone. The University’s president, Dr. John J. Kennedy, will deliver the keynote address at the event.

Freshman Class is Largest Sophomores Rank Second

The Freshman Class is the largest in Fontbonne University’s history, with 515 students. The Sophomore Class is the second largest, with 513 students. The University’s total enrollment is 1,545, with 756 freshmen, 513 sophomores, 257 juniors, and 229 seniors.

College Opens With Several Shifts in Faculty

Several new faculty members have joined the Fontbonne faculty this fall, including several who have earned their PhDs. The new faculty members bring a variety of expertise to the University, including in fields such as biology, psychology, and philosophy.

Annual Forty Hours Close of Feast of Christ the King

The University will hold a forty-hour devotion on November 2, in honor of the Feast of Christ the King. The devotion will be held in the University’s chapel from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m., with Mass at 7 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Assembly Hears ‘Paths to Peace’

The University will host a discussion on “Paths to Peace” on November 15, in honor of the Feast of All Saints. The discussion will be held in the University’s chapel from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., with a reception to follow.

Annual Editor Names Staff

The University’s annual newspaper, “The Fontbonne News,” will be published on November 15. The staff will be selected by the University’s editorial board.

Admissions Meeting

The University will host an admissions meeting on November 15, in honor of the Feast of Christ the King. The meeting will be held in the University’s chapel from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., with a reception to follow.

One Will be Queen! Candidates for the Annual Fontbonne College Homecoming Queen and Homecoming Court will be announced on November 6. The announcement will be held in the University’s chapel from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., with a reception to follow.

Fontbonne University in St. Louis, Missouri, is celebrating its 151st anniversary on October 15. The University will host a number of events throughout the day to commemorate this milestone. The day will include a traditional Mass, a wreath-laying ceremony, and a wreath-laying ceremony at the University’s cornerstone. The University’s president, Dr. John J. Kennedy, will deliver the keynote address at the event.

The Freshman Class is the largest in Fontbonne University’s history, with 515 students. The Sophomore Class is the second largest, with 513 students. The University’s total enrollment is 1,545, with 756 freshmen, 513 sophomores, 257 juniors, and 229 seniors.

Several new faculty members have joined the Fontbonne faculty this fall, including several who have earned their PhDs. The new faculty members bring a variety of expertise to the University, including in fields such as biology, psychology, and philosophy.

The University will hold a forty-hour devotion on November 2, in honor of the Feast of Christ the King. The devotion will be held in the University’s chapel from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m., with Mass at 7 a.m. and 6 p.m.

The University will host a discussion on “Paths to Peace” on November 15, in honor of the Feast of All Saints. The discussion will be held in the University’s chapel from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., with a reception to follow.

The University’s annual newspaper, “The Fontbonne News,” will be published on November 15. The staff will be selected by the University’s editorial board.

The University will host an admissions meeting on November 15, in honor of the Feast of Christ the King. The meeting will be held in the University’s chapel from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., with a reception to follow.

The University will hold a forty-hour devotion on November 2, in honor of the Feast of Christ the King. The devotion will be held in the University’s chapel from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m., with Mass at 7 a.m. and 6 p.m.

The University will host a discussion on “Paths to Peace” on November 15, in honor of the Feast of All Saints. The discussion will be held in the University’s chapel from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., with a reception to follow.

The University’s annual newspaper, “The Fontbonne News,” will be published on November 15. The staff will be selected by the University’s editorial board.

The University will host an admissions meeting on November 15, in honor of the Feast of Christ the King. The meeting will be held in the University’s chapel from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., with a reception to follow.
Not the Fontbunny at This Time
It's Fannie, the Fontbunny Fly
Fannie, the Fontbunny Fly, is a fontbunny who does not like her name. Fannie attended NFCC’s Yearly Meet at the University of Chicago. She is a student of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. The event was held on September 5, and Fannie was one of the speakers.

Fannie met with other students from across the country and discussed the importance of their faith in college. She was particularly impressed with the enthusiasm of the students and the support they gave each other.

Fannie’s favorite part of the event was the keynote address by a local priest. He shared his experiences of living in the city and how he had been able to make a positive impact in the community.

Overall, Fannie had a great time and was glad she decided to attend the event. She is excited to continue to be a part of the Fontbunny community and to continue to grow in her faith.

Fannie was also able to meet some of her favorite fontbunnies, including Brouillelette, a popular fontbunny who is known for her expertise in calligraphy.

Fannie is looking forward to attending more events and meeting new fontbunnies in the future.
In Inspecting the New Lighted outdoor sign erected on the front campus are Jacqueline Taylor, Kathleen Coss, Joan Eishan, and Dorothy Dunlop. The sign is of California redwood with a Missouri quanrant base. It was designed by Joseph D. Marzorati, architect of Missouri College.

Symbolism in Architecture

Stations of Cross

In Medaille Oratory

Stations of the Cross are significant in various Christian traditions and are often used for prayer and reflection. They are typically depicted in a sequence of 14 stations, each representing a significant event in the crucifixion of Jesus. These stations are often displayed in churches and devotionals to help believers meditate on the Passion of Christ. In the context of this document, the stations of the cross are likely being mentioned as part of a larger discussion on symbolism and architecture. The specific details about the stations of the cross, such as their design or the materials used, are not provided in the given text.

Who’s Who on Campus

The section titled “Who’s Who on Campus” appears to be a directory or listing of individuals associated with the campus. It includes names of people along with their titles or roles. The document does not provide specific details about each individual except for their names and titles. This section could be used as a reference for people on campus or as a part of a larger publication like a yearbook.

G.R.E. Tests Given Nov. 20

The section “G.R.E. Tests Given Nov. 20” refers to the Graduate Record Examination (G.R.E.) tests that were administered on that date. The G.R.E. is a standardized test used for graduate school admissions in the United States. The document indicates that the tests were taken by 27 students on November 20. The specific locations where these tests were administered are not provided in the given text.

Sophists’ Picnic Starts Off Year

The Sophists’ Picnic appears to be an event held on campus, possibly as a social or communal gathering. The event is mentioned as the starting point for the academic year. The document does not provide specific details about the event, such as its location, time, or nature. It is likely that more information about the event could be found in a larger context or in a separate publication.

New Music Book Soon to Appear

The section “New Music Book Soon to Appear” indicates that a new music book is forthcoming. The document does not provide details about the contents of the book, its purpose, or when it is expected to be released. This section could be part of an announcement or a preview for a future publication.

36 Religious Belong To Sister Benchmarks’ Family

The section “36 Religious Belong To Sister Benchmarks’ Family” appears to be a statement about the number of religious individuals associated with a family, possibly a religious order or group. The document does not provide specific details about the nature of the family or its religious affiliation. This section could be part of a larger context or publication, such as a yearbook or a newsletter.
Sodalists As Pilgrims

Our Lady ended her own part last Thursday, October 6, when a special event took place between the hours of 1:18 and 3:50 p.m. It was a pilgrimage which the sodalists and faculty of Puncheon made to Our Lady of Lourdes Church, the parish church of the college. The procession walked in the church, sang the hymns in honor of the Mother of God. The repetition of the rosary, prayers, and novena concluded. Blessed Mother appears to me, each pilgrim of Our Lady to have had the privilege of expressing sweetly our love for her.

Welcome!

In the days to come, this kind of a student will be grateful to be remanded to the little corner of every student a place to stay. Thank you and the faculty of Puncheon. The way you have very much forward to be remembered by the sodalists of our college.

Let's end.

The Post Staff

College Day

Yes, tomorrow's the big day for you, freshmen: it's the Feast of St. Theresa of Avila and St. Theresa College for students here at Puncheon. College Day is a day for all the members of the faculty and student body to enjoy and witness the variety of activities available.

Scholarship Exams

Given at Nov. 13, March 26

Graduating seniors are encouraged to apply for the scholarship exams that will be held November 13, December 4, and March 26 for the following spring semester. The exams will be held on the college campus. For more information, please contact the scholarship office.

Club Participates In UN Celebration

Next week will be a busy one for the Puncheon International Relations Club. October 13-15 is United Nations Week, and the club members plan to participate in a variety of events including a mock UN assembly. The club members will present on "The United Nations: Its Role in World Peace," held at the college's gymnasium, on the college campus.

Volunteer

(Continued from page 3, column 1) Two hours per week in volunteer work can make a big difference, especially for children and youth. For more information about volunteering opportunities at the college, please contact the Volunteer Office.

Givel You'll Be Glad You Did It Is Worth It Anytime

Margaret Mary Ryan

As we approach the fall and winter break, the college community is preparing for the transition to the holiday season. We encourage all students to give back to their communities.

Ten Top Tunes

1. "The High and the Mighty" - The Beach Boys
2. "Teach Me" - The Chords
3. "They Were Dancing in the Rain" - The Everly Brothers
4. "De De" - The Supremes
5. "Hey There!" - The Three Tenors
6. "Have a Good Year" - The Osmonds
7. "It's a Woman's World" - The Temptations
8. "Shhh" - The Beatles
9. "Strange on the West Coast" - The Beach Boys
10. "I Shot My Friend" - The Frantics

Page Four

October, the month of the Angels, And A Mighty Archangel, Gabriel

October is the month dedicated to the angels of Heaven. The only name that He expressly gives to individual angels is Raphael, Michael, and Gabriel, all of whom are Archangels. Of course, Satan, who may have been an Archangel, is mentioned frequently in the Book of Revelation as the leader of the angelic hosts of evil. The names Arcturus and Caphaloth are known, and they signify simply, Arcturus, i.e., Michael, who is the leader of God. Gabriel is referred to as "the great angel." The phrases "Satan has his hosts." "The archangels, or chief of the heavenly" are found in the New Testament. The word "archangel" is used in the phrase "the archangel Michael and his host." The word "archangel" is used in the phrase "the archangel Michael and his host." The word "archangel" is used in the phrase "the archangel Michael and his host." The word "archangel" is used in the phrase "the archangel Michael and his host."