Students Enjoy "Tamburitza"s At Assembly

Today, at the weekly student assembly, appearing at Fontbonne for the second time, the Tamburitza group from the National Exhibition of European folk dancing and singing. The time of the assembly was changed from 2:00 P.M. to 3:00 P.M. to accommodate the entertainers.

The performances are three unanneuncement and blueguss of Duquesne University, Pittsburgh. During the summer months, the dancers are at their own summer camps outside the city, perfecting the show and giving frequent performances. Because the show is flexible, it can operate conveniently on any one stage.

Traveling throughout the country, the Tamburitza transport via Greyhound, bringing with them fifteen costume trunks of costumes and their own amplification. They will also appear at Earl Audubon during their St. Louis visit.

Ready to Leave: For Lambert Air Port for to New York City for the Associated Colleges Press Conventio r, held at the Hotel New Yorker, are Suzanne McMillan, Font, Barbara Kilc, Font, and Sister Margaret John, advisor.

Senior Gift Committee Has Four Members

Piano are being made for the gift which the senior class will give to the college. Three members on the gift committee are Ann Gehrke, chairman, Barbara Kratoch, Margaret Wilkins, and Donna Price, class president. The committee will announce later in the year what this gift is to be.

Last year the seniors contributed to a fund to have a film made which depicted life at Fontbonne. This film has been shown to prospective students in order to stimulate interest in Fontbonne and to acquaint them with life on the Fontbonne campus.

The 1966 graduating class presented the college with a standing memorial lamp for St. Joseph's Chapel, Rose Bowl.

President Releases Inaugurated Scholarship Program

The Fontbonne Scholarship Program was released yesterday by Sister Margarette, president, after a meeting with the college faculty.

The Catholic Women College Scholarships, totaling ten and valued at $250 a year, are open to students in Catholic and public schools of the Greater St. Louis area and are offered by Webster, Maryland, and Fontbonne. The program is new in its third year.

An art scholarship, valued at $200 a year, is open to students in the high schools conducted by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet. Shown in the program are Rosalee, St. Anthony's, St. Joseph's, and St. Thomas's.

An Art Scholarship will be available to incoming freshmen for September, 1967. This scholarship is valued at $200 a year.

There will be scholarships in speech, radio, voice, and piano valuation at $250 each, offered by the departments of speech and music, subject to the approval of the faculty at the time of award. The programs will be announced at the time of award.

The Sister Irene O'Hara Scholarship, named in honor of Fontbonne's first president, is a resident student honors scholarship open each year to an outstanding senior selected by the college faculty.

Annual Key Day, December 16th

Observations for the Annual Key Day will be celebrated Monday, December 16, 1967, at 2:00 p.m., in St. Joseph's Church. Rev. J. Ross Sullivan, chaplain, pastor of St. Mary and Joseph's Church, Carondelet, will deliver the sermon and present the keys. Emblems of Fontbonne, the keys themselves, on which are inscribed the seals of the college, with the word "Vestor Et Motuere."
Students Hear Austrian Educator At Four Lectures

Scholar, teacher, linguist, town planner and journalist is Dr. Franz Hille, who addressed the Fontbonne faculty and students last Wednesday.

Mr. Hille was born in Austria, received his master’s degree in Vienna, and his doctorate in Budapest. He has traveled extensively, taught school, and grown food with his wife and three children in Austria. Fashioning the topics he discussed in his talk, “The Future of Democracy in Europe,” became a “Survey of the Educational System in Austria,” “Education in the Old World,” and “Education in the New World.”

Speaking on the educational system of Europe, Mr. Hille stated that education is extremely different from that in the United States. The end home instruction is not possible in Europe. There is a three-hour school day, the emphasis being on art, music, and the sciences, with instruction until he is 18 and beyond. In the graduate school, the class is divided into a broad formal education.

Twenty Play In Ping Pong Match

Ping Pong paddles and balls were used to good effect October 26 at the President Students of Fontbonne College held its annual Ping Pong Tournament in Mulligan’s Den from 6:30 to 7:30. Twenty participated in the games.

The finals were: Mary Fitz, Marilyniro, and Jacqueline Zellum, champion for this year’s Ping Pong Tournament. Each girl who played a game determined her place, helping her as a basis for victory. It was a game of skill and chance, with each game consisting of three games. In charge of this year’s tournament was Mary Beth Mahoney. Congratulations are extended to Jacqueline Post.

Mid-Day Mass

There are many opportunities for the students of Fontbonne to attend daily mid-day Mass. Normally by chance of offering this opportunity are as follows:

Immaculata 4:00 P.M. - St. John’s, 11 N. Henners; St. Michael, 300th and Union; St. Loue’s, 900 South; St. Bene’t, 900 South; Church, Grand and Lindell.

New Equipment in the Science Laboratory

The manuscripts have been translated and are now being read.
Sodality Has Much News For Next Month

The Sodality will sponsor a Tea Dance for Seniors on Sunday, December 3, at 4:00 P.M. The dance will be followed with a junior supper. The affair will begin at 3:00 to 7:00 o'clock. The annual clothing drive sponsored by the Sodality will be held during the month of November and December. The entire student body is asked to contribute unused clothing for distribution among needy families.

Food will be collected during the month of December for the Sodality's Christmas basket program. This food will be sent to the needy families.

Rev. Reverend Daniel Campbell, S.J., will conduct the day of novenas to be held on December 15 from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock at St. Joseph's Chapel, Ryan Hall.

Sodality will be very busy this month, especially Members of the Sodality, Fontbonne, and St. Louis University Commerce and Finance, were present at the joint Communion breakfast on Sunday, November 13. Mass was celebrated at 9:00 A.M. in the lower Church, Desautel followed immediately in the Campus Club.

Alumna Edits Child's Book

Reviewing say "Delightful" is the only adequate description of Mrs. Edith E. Lims's "The Children's Treasury Book," edited by a forest in the forest of woods, by the pond, in the dale, a Maryknoll religious, who was the founder of Maryknoll Press, St. Mary's School, O.P.D., and St. Mary's.

Purchased three times a week and costing $1.25 per copy, this book will be published in a multiformatted right and left, which collection of stories, poems, jokes, cut-outs, that they do, and the like, it is. It looks more like a manual than like a book. It is published three times a month, it stands the quality of perception.

Homecoming Dance

Receipts Are $567

The Homecoming dance, held November 11, was a huge success at which Patricia Barden was chosen Homecoming Queen, and coast received totaling $567, according to Desautel. The dance was planned by the student council and was well attended. All of the proceeds were paid for, the party was a success for the new era. As for the new era, it is a win.

Club Activities

Sponsors Of Exhibits, Visit Art Museum, Sew Clothing

Delta Phi

The purpose of Delta Phi is to further an interest in art at Fontbonne. In order to achieve this, the club is sponsoring a series of art exhibitions on the main floor of Ryan Hall.

Each member of the club is asked to choose one piece, write a brief commentary on the exhibit, and submit the exhibit for a one-month long contest. The first ten artworks are selected to be exhibited in the art gallery. The ten selected artworks are exhibited in the gallery for two weeks, and then judged by the judges, who are the members of the Delta Phi. The judges will select the ten best artworks, and the ten selected artworks are chosen for the exhibition.

Footlights Club

On Monday, November 11th, the Footlights Club held an Oriental evening, many faculty members and students responded to the invitation. The program was divided into two parts, the first part included readings by students and the second part included an oriental evening. The readings were performed by students, and the oriental evening was performed by the members of the club. The oriental evening included music, dance, and theater. The music was performed by students, and the dance and theater were performed by the members of the club.

Bishops On Censorship

Each year the Bishops of the United States stop in the United States to discuss the work of the Catholic Church in America during the year and to present their program for the next year. This year the Bishops' statement was the subject of censorship. Mindful of the recent encyclical of Pope John XXIII, who declared on his deathbed that bishops must have freedom of press and freedom of speech, the Bishops' statement was the subject of censorship. Mindful of the recent encyclical of Pope John XXIII, who declared on his deathbed that bishops must have freedom of press and freedom of speech, the Bishops' statement was the subject of censorship.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club will be held at 2:00 p.m. on November 11th. The meeting will be held in the home economics room, and the program will include a discussion of the club's activities and plans for the next year. The club members will participate in the discussion, and the discussion will be held in the home economics room.

College Keeps U.N. Week

Fontbonne observed United Nations Week Oct. 24-31 by participating in a week seminar under the supervision of Washington University. Each college and university in the St. Louis area participated in the week, with the week observed at Fontbonne. Mary Jane Breden, Baltimore, Bethany College, and Marilyn Trapp acted as delegates from State University of Illinois.

The Alumni's claim of independence was discussed on KEDW October 23 by these delegates. The week was proceeded by a super and a public seminar in the Student Lounge on the campus of Washington University.

In addition to Fontbonne and Washington, other computer represented were Webster, St. Louis, Principia, Elmhurst, Loyola, Lind-wood, Maryville, and Harris Teachers.

Speech League at Fontbonne

The Catholic Interracial Speech League was held at Fontbonne November 8. Over 200 high school students participated in this tournament. The next meeting will be in St. Louis University December 11.
Again Hungary

On October 23, 1956, a revolt of young people in Budapest, followed by support from the Hungarian Students Union, was the first of a series of revolutions which ended in freedom for their country. Yet the few days of freedom were the last. The Czecho-Slovak invasion was soon followed by invasion by other Soviet satellites, and the oppression continued. Its harshness was made clear by the fact that American Catholic Student Center workers, who had been in Hungary, were expelled by the new regime.

The spirit that brought about the Hungarian revolution is alive. It is the same spirit that has inspired American students and artists to support the Hungarian revolution.

Apprentices In Teaching Like Work

Every Sunday morning, two Pathfinder missionaries, under the guidance of the director of Pathfinders, go to work in the Pathfinder school. They teach the Pathfinder boys and girls in the Pathfinder program. The boys and girls enjoy learning from these missionaries, and they also enjoy helping each other.

The missions where these missionaries work are located in various parts of the United States and in other countries.

Books You Will Like

The Spirit and Firmness of Protestantism (Cassell's Press, 1956) is a book by Louis Bouyer, a remarkable, informative, and stimulating study of the Protestant movement. The book is on the origin of the Protestant movement, and it presents a clear and concise discussion of the doctrine of Luther and Calvin, pointing out what he believes are the basic ideas of the Protestant tradition.

Book review by three theologians: "The net gain" by Luther, "the real idea of Calvin," and emphasis on the authority of Scripture. Louis Bouyer develops his points clearly, logically, and scholarly.

Cobble, Cobbler, Cobbler

Writer Says Red Struggle With Church Has Reached Climax Ten Years After

The ten-year struggle between Communist dictatorship and Catholic Church has reached the “limiting point” as foreseen by Louis Bouyer, a French Catholic author and theologian. The “limiting point” is the point at which the Church is faced with a decision. The decision is whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If the Church accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The Church in China is faced with a difficult and dangerous task. The situation is such that the Church must decide whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The decision is whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If the Church accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The tension is evident in all the Chinese churches. The Chinese government has tried to control the Church, and the Church has tried to resist. The result is a conflict between the two sides. The Church is faced with the choice of accepting the situation or of resisting it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The situation is such that the Church must decide whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The Church in China is faced with a difficult and dangerous task. The situation is such that the Church must decide whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The decision is whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If the Church accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The tension is evident in all the Chinese churches. The Chinese government has tried to control the Church, and the Church has tried to resist. The result is a conflict between the two sides. The Church is faced with the choice of accepting the situation or of resisting it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The situation is such that the Church must decide whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The decision is whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If the Church accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The tension is evident in all the Chinese churches. The Chinese government has tried to control the Church, and the Church has tried to resist. The result is a conflict between the two sides. The Church is faced with the choice of accepting the situation or of resisting it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The situation is such that the Church must decide whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The decision is whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If the Church accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The tension is evident in all the Chinese churches. The Chinese government has tried to control the Church, and the Church has tried to resist. The result is a conflict between the two sides. The Church is faced with the choice of accepting the situation or of resisting it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The situation is such that the Church must decide whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The decision is whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If the Church accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The tension is evident in all the Chinese churches. The Chinese government has tried to control the Church, and the Church has tried to resist. The result is a conflict between the two sides. The Church is faced with the choice of accepting the situation or of resisting it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The situation is such that the Church must decide whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If it accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.

The decision is whether to accept the situation or to resist it. If the Church accepts the situation, then it is reduced to a mere organization, but if it resists it, then it is faced with a difficult and dangerous task.