The leadership workshop for new and old SGA, class, and club officers was held Saturday, May 12. Lectures on student government theory and small group dynamics on different facets of the leadership program were scheduled.

These informal discussions, paid officers were able to share with new officers the experiences and insights they gained.

Wanted! Booknappers!

So! You're one of those! I thought you looked like the type with those shiny little beady eyes and you're one of those who steal other people's books! You know what? You're like a monstrous! All the books you steal, they're just like living beings! And they're important for all of us! Of course, you think it's okay, but it's not! You're not just stealing a book, you're stealing a part of someone else's life! Get it? Get it? Get it? You're like a monster, and I'm here to stop you!

No, I'm joking. I'm just being a bit dramatic. But seriously, it's important to respect the work of others and support our local libraries. Keep your hands off those precious books!

Sincerely,
